who are relatives, had come down from their home in Sharon to spend the day with Mr. Morford. They found the home closed on their

PA NEW OBSERVES

The largest and most beautiful Hydrangea Pa Newc has seen was brought to The News this morning and graces the business office. It was grown at the Sherango township home of A. E. Kerr of the citizen's Lumber company.

Pa Newc himself is somewhat of a gardener, he has discovered to his delight. For instance there are the two cucumbers he harvested last week, one measuring 11 inches long and 1 1/2 inches around and the other measuring 12 inches long and 1 1/2 inches around.

Sunday evening, a swarm of bees alighted in a maple tree at the corner of Haus and Woodland avenues, which was taken in custody by neighbors. They procured a ladder and cut off the limb on which the swarm had alighted. There were several gallons of bees in the swarm.

Young Chemist Shot To Death

Promising Young Philadel-

Wounded At Bunga-

WAS MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR

(International News Service)
WEST BERLIN, N. J., Aug. 20.—
A promising young Philadelphia
chemist lay dead today and a local resident was being held by police as the tragic aftermath of a "mistake
shooting" here.

The young chemist, Robert Welchhoff, 21, has told relatives he was "going on his vacation". Police declare that instead of going to the seashore, he went to Clementon, N.
J., met some friends and joined them in a bungalow party in West Berlin Heights.

At one stage of the party the
Returning, he was apparently unable to recognize the place where the party was being held and mistakenly entered the bungalow of
Charles W. Sutton. Thinking
Welchhoff was a burglar, Sutton shot
the youth dead.

Sutton was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Milton S. Schweiger and held without bail on a murder charge, pending action of the Camden county coroner.

Hundreds Witness Bridge Opening At Rose Point

Through Traffic Resumed
As Span Over Slippery

CHAIRMAN OF DAY

State And County Officials

Held Midway On Bridge

Rose Point and Slippery Rock township turned out in a body Saturday afternoon when the new bridge over the Slippery Rock was formally dedicated to the use of the traveling public. A crowd estimated at 400 crowded the center of the bridge to hear the speakers and to see State Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner cut the ribbon that marked the opening.

The program was sponsored by a committee of Rose Point business men headed by W. E. Stewart. At three o'clock the Prospect band
blared out with the strains of America and the crowd stood at attention. Fred L. Rentz, president of the News, was chairman of the day and opened the program with a short address.

Removes Menace

"This is a great day for Rose
Point and for the motorists who use this highway," said Mr. Rentz. "For years this bridge has been a menace to the traveling public and the highway department wisely decided to put in a bridge that would meet
the need.

"Your highway department in this state is an efficient one. Realizing the menace, they have erected this bridge with money that you have paid over in the form of gasoline taxes and license fees. It is a splendid structure, one well suited to the demands that will be made upon it, and I congratulate you upon its completion.

This place used to be known as Stonertown when I was younger,"

Cosyns Happy Over Flight

Belgian Stratosphere Flier

(International News Service)
LAIBACH, Yugoslavia, Aug. 20.—
Convinced his fourteen hour flight was productive of marked success in penetrating the mysteries of the stratosphere, Max Cosyns, Belgian scientist, came to Laibach today
while his huge balloon was dismantled and packed for shipment.

Meere Van Der Elst, the young
assistant who accompanied Cosyns
on the perilous flight, remained at the spot near Ljubljana where the balloon descended Saturday night after the world for hours had feared them lost.

Cosyns expressed confidence that examination of his instruments and records would prove the flight a success.

"We reached 16,000 metres (52-480 feet)," he said, "and made no attempt to go higher, as we were not out for an altitude record. Our plan was to remain in the stratosphere
as long as possible and make detailed observations. In that respect, our venture went just as planned."

jured In Series Of Accidents In State

HIGHWAYS JAMMED BY HEAVY TRAFFIC

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Traffic mazes claimed the lives of three persons and sent at least 15 others to hospital emergency rooms with varied injuries, an International News Service checkup revealed today.

Of the three fatalities, two children in the Pittsburgh area. William Anderson, 17, hitch-hiking his way to his home in Marietta, O., was killed near Imperial when an automobile knocked him from the running board of another vehicle.

Boy Is Killed

Eight-year-old Joseph R. Thomas, Jr., of Glenwood, was the other death victim from the western sector while four persons in the area suffered injuries.

A Philadelphia woman was fatally injured while enroute to Atlantic City, completing the trio who died in the state that prides itself on its highway system. Two others from the eastern Pennsylvania district were injured.

Harrisburg and the central region of the state escaped the week-end with no deaths but reported nine injuries resulting from unusual accidents.

Hitch Hiker Killed

Death strode the highways in the Pittsburgh area to claim a 17-year-old Marietta, O., hitch-hiker and an eight-year-old boy.

William Anderson, hitch-hiking his way back to Marietta after visiting Pittsburgh was killed as he was riding the running board of a car when another vehicle sideswiped it at a road intersection near Imperial.
Both drivers were arrested by state highway patrolmen and turned over to the Allegheny county coroner.

Internal injuries and shock cost
the life of the child, Joseph E.
Thomas, Jr., Glenwood.

Four others were injured in other crashes in the Pittsburgh Metropolitan area.

Crashes Telephone Pole

Helen Bielefeld, 26-year-old school teacher, was probably fatally injured when her brother, Donald,

United Spanish War Vets Open Annual Session

Expect 25,000 Delegates At Convention In Pittsburgh, Auxiliaries Meeting

AUXILIARY ORDERS ALSO CONVENING

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Business sessions today were to occupy the attention of delegates to the United Spanish War Veterans as their 36th national encampment sounded reveille.

First of the business sessions were to be opened by Chaplain in Chief
Francis Van R. Moore's invocation.
This was to be followed by greetings from Mayor William N. McNair and chairman of county commissioners
Col. Charles C. McGovern. Commander-in-Chief William A. Armstrong and National Auxiliary President Mamie B. Schmidt were to respond to this welcome.

Business Taken Up

Following the colorful presentation of flags, the business before the convention was to be taken up.

Although the veterans' policies will not be mapped by the resolutions' committee until later in the week, it was generally conceded that calls for national defense, a new definition of "Americanism" and restitution of pension cuts would be indorsed.

Some 12,000 visitors were on hand
as the first sessions opened this morning. Before the sessions end Thursday, 25,000 conventionists were expected to be on hand.

In addition to the U. S. W. V. convention, the city is also host to the National Auxiliary, the Naval and Military order, the Spanish-American War Nurses, the Military Order of the Sons of the American Revolution,
the Daughters of '98 and the Sons of Veterans.

Famous Composer Is Shot To Death

Husband Of Irene Franklin, Musical Comedy Star, Found Dead In Holly-

KILLED BY BULLET WOUND BELOW EAR

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20.—Death
that struck suddenly during a gay
dinner party at the Toluca Lake mansion of Irene Franklin, New York musical comedy star, was understandably investigated today.

Miss Franklin's husband, Jerry Jarnagin, famous composer and pianist, was found shot to death in the living room of the residence.

Detectives studied two theories—
murder and suicide.

While Miss Franklin and her guests laughed and joked at a prenuptial feast for Jarnagin's niece, Miss Dorothy Watson, Jarnagin excused himself, saying:

"Excuse me folks, while I wash
up a bit."

He left the room.

Meanwhile Miss Franklin and her guests, Miss Watson, her fiancé, William Green, Lake Charleston, La.,
and Mrs. Wally Klein, had heard a noise but had failed to realize its importance.

Investigating the bizarre tragedy
detectives learned that Miss Franklin went into the living room to ask Jarnagin to hasten back to the feast.

Bullet Below Ear.

She screamed. Her husband's body was slumped in a chair. The three startled guests rushed to her screaming, cars racing.

Morbid crowds gathered to see the gory murder victim, saw burly, shame-faced, blushing detectives gingerly lift the figure of a beautiful woman into a squad car, the while muttering unintelligible in-

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—Adolf
Hitler today entered into a lifetime job as Germany's Caesar. Over 38,000,000 Germans willingly or unwillingly, freely or not, told him,
"yes, we want you to be our autocrat from now on." Fewer than 5,000,000 took a chance and voted no. So Hitler has a permanent commission from the German people.

Germany Buries Itself.

German democracy which committed suicide when Hitler moved into the chancellery's office in January, 1933, has now buried itself.
The corpse will not be resurrected
during Hitler's life. Each year, Hitler has promised to submit his policies to plebiscite but never again will he submit his person to popular approval and nothing can be foreseen now that could happen to break
his iron hold on power except death or war.

The last plebiscite, in November,
1933, asking the people to pass judgment on Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations was on a question of policy. Yesterday's plebiscite asked the people to approve of Hitler's personal leadership
—his succession of Hindenburg as president.

Both plebiscites presented the people with an accomplished fact and all they could do was to say "we agree" or "we don't," but not with
the faintest chance of changing facts.
Today, however, the most striking features of yesterday's plebiscite were: First, Hitler received more than 2,300,000 fewer votes than last November; second, that the government permitted the result to be published.

88 Per Cent Of Vote.

Now it will be impossible to assert that Hitler's popularity is greater

(International News Service)
WEST BERLIN, N. J., Aug. 20.—
A promising young Philadelphia
chemist lay dead today and a local resident was being held by police as
the tragic aftermath of a "mistake
shooting" here.

The young chemist, Robert Welchhoff, 21, has told relatives he
was "going on his vacation." Police declare that instead of going to the seashore, he went to Clementon, N.
J., met some friends and joined them in a bungalow party in West Berlin Heights.

Returning, he was apparently unable to recognize the place where
the party was being held and mis-
Charles W. Sutton. Thinking
Welchhoff was a burglar, Sutton shot
the youth dead.

Sutton was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Milton S. Schweig-
er and held without bail on a murder charge, pending action of the Camden county coroner.

urday afternoon when the new
bridge over the Slippery Rock was formally dedicated to the use of
the traveling public. A crowd estimated at 400 crowded the center of the bridge to hear the speakers and
to see State Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner cut the ribbon that marked the opening.

The program was sponsored by a committee of Rose Point business men headed by W. R. Stewart. At three o'clock the Prospect band
blared out with the strains of America and the crowd stood at attention. Fred L. Rentz, president of the News, was chairman of the day
and opened the program with a short address.

Removes Menace
"This is a great day for Rose
Point and for the motorists who use
this highway," said Mr. Rentz. "For years this bridge has been a menace to the traveling public and the highway department wisely decided to put in a bridge that would meet
the need."

"Your highway department in this state is an efficient one. Realizing
the menace, they have erected this bridge with money that you have paid over in the form of gasoline
taxes and license fees. It is a splendid structure, one well suited to
the demands that will be made up-
on it, and I congratulate you upon
its completion."

LAIBACH, Yugoslavia, Aug. 20.—
Convinced his fourteen hour flight
was productive of marked success in penetrating the mysteries of the stratosphere, Max Cosyns, Belgian
scientist, came to Laibach today
while his huge balloon was dismantled and packed for shipment.

Meere Van Der Elst, the young
assistant who accompanied Cosyns
on the perilous flight, remained at
the spot near Ljubljana where the
balloon descended Saturday night
after the world for hours had feared
them lost.

Cosyns expressed confidence that examination of his instruments and records would prove the flight a success.

"We reached 16,000 metres (52-490 feet)," he said, "and made no attempt to go higher, as we were out for an altitude record. Our plan
was to remain in the stratosphere
as long as possible and make detailed observations. In that respect,
our venture went just as planned."

the life of the child, Joseph E.
Thomas, Jr., Glenwood.

Four others were injured in other

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Business

The first of the business sessions were to be opened by Chaplain in Chief
Francis Van R. Moore's invocation.
This was to be followed by greetings from Mayor William M. McVicar and chairman of county commission
Col. Charles C. McGovern. Com-

Business Taken Up
Following the colorful presenta-

convention was to be taken up.

Although the veterans' policies will not be discussed by the resolutions committee until later in the
calls for national defense, a new definition of "Americanism" and restoration of pension cuts would be indorsed.

Some 10,000 visitors were on hand
as the first sessions opened this morning. Before the sessions end Thursday, 25,000 conventionists were expected to be on hand.

Military order, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the Military Order of the Sons of the American Revolution,

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20.—Death
that struck suddenly during a gay
dinner party at the Toluca Lake
mansion of Irene Franklin, New York musical comedy star, was under searching investigation today.

Miss Franklin's husband, Jerry Jarnagin, famous composer and pianist, was found shot to death in the living room of the residence.

Detectives studied two theories—
murder and suicide.

While Miss Franklin and her guests laughed and joked at a preludical feast for Jarnagin's niece,
Miss Dorothy Watson, Jarnagin ex-
cused himself, saying:

up a bit."

He left the room.

Meanwhile Miss Franklin and the guests, Miss Watson, her fiancé, William Green, Lake Charleston, La.,
and Mrs. Wally Klein, had heard a muffled shot but had failed to realize its import.

Investigating the bizarre tragedy
detectives learned that Miss Franklin went into the living room to ask Jarnagin to hasten back to the feast.

She screamed. Her husband's body was slumped in a chair. The
three startled guests rushed to her

its second step today along the path death of Freda McKechnie, 26, his

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—Adolf
Hitler today entered into a lifetime job as Germany's Caesar. Over 38,000,000 Germans willingly or unwilling-
ly, freely or not, told him,
"yes, we want you to be our autocrat from now on." Fewer than 5,000,000 took a chance and voted no. So Hitler has a permanent commission from the German people.

Germany Buries Itself.
German democracy which committed suicide when Hitler moved into the chancellory office in January, 1933, has now buried itself.
The corpse will not be resurrected
during Hitler's life. Each year, Hitler has promised to submit his policies to plebiscite but never again
will he submit his person to popular approval and nothing can be foreseen now that could happen to break
his iron hold on power except death
or war.

The last plebiscite, in November,
1933, asking the people to pass judgment on Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations was on a question of policy. Yesterday's plebiscite asked the people to approve of Hitler's personal leadership
his succession of Hindenburg as president.

Both plebiscites presented the people with an accomplished fact and
all they could do was to say "we
the faintest chance of changing facts.

Today, however, the most striking
features of yesterday's plebiscite
were: First, Hitler received more than 2,300,000 fewer votes than last November; second, that the government permitted the result to be published.

88 Per Cent Of Vote.
Now it will be impossible to assert
that Hitler's popularity is greater

A promising young Philadelphia
chemist lay dead today and a local resident was being held by police as
the tragic aftermath of a "mistake shooting" here.The young chemist, Robert Welchhoff, 21, has told relatives he
was "going on his vacation". Police declare that instead of going to the seashore, he went to Clementon, N.
J., met some friends and joined
them in a bungalow party in West Berlin Heights.At one stage of the party the
Returning, he was apparently unable to recognize the place where
the party was being held and mistakenly entered the bungalow of
Charles W. Sutton. Thinking
Welchhoff was a burglar, Sutton shot
the youth dead.Sutton was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Milton S. Schweig-

SPEAKERSHIP FIGHT LOOMS AS RAINEY DIES

Many Democrats Candidates For Important Post

Al Smith Mentioned As Possible Candidate If Non-Member Is Elected

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—A stiff fight for speakership of the house was in prospect today following the death of Speaker Henry T. Rainey.

A half dozen candidates are expected to seek the mantle, with Rep. Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader and chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, the early favorite.

Among the potential candidates are: Rep. Bankhead of Alabama, chairman of the rules committee; Rep. McDuffie of Alabama, former rival of Rainey; Rep. Rankin of Mississippi as an ultra-progressive; Rep. Rayburn of Texas, a close friend of President Roosevelt; and Reps. O'Connor and Cullen, members of the New York Tammany delegation.

The real fight for the speakership probably will be delayed until after the November election. The house will choose a speaker in January. A sudden reaction which carried Republicans into power would, of course, dispel all Democratic hopes.

The house may choose a speaker who is not a member. The name of former Governor Al Smith of New York has been mentioned in this class in the past. Rainey's opponent in the Illinois primary, H. J. "High Heels" Kirby, has announced his candidacy for the speakership.

President Roosevelt can, it is conceded, dominate the speakership if he chooses. "The president is expected to adopt a 'hands off' attitude."

St. Louis, Mo., Death has closed the lengthy public career of Henry Thomas Rainey, veteran congressman from the 20th Illinois district and speaker of the house of representatives.

Mr. Rainey died unexpectedly here last night in DePaul hospital from a sudden attack of angina pectoris. He had been ill for two weeks with a slight attack of bronchial pneumonia but had shown definite signs of improvement yesterday, physicians said.

Had he lived until today Speaker Rainey would have been 74 years old. Death came at 7:51 p. m.

Mrs. Rainey, who had been her husband's secretary for years, had spent the afternoon by her husband's side and had left in the early morning. She was cheered by his happy frame of mind and apparent evidence of improvement in his condition.

Speaker Rainey, a native of Carrollton, Ill., assumed the speakership at the start of his 15th term in congress in March, 1933. He succeeded John Nance Garner of Texas, now vice president.

Mr. Rainey was first elected to congress from the 20th Illinois district in 1902 on the Democratic ticket. With the exception of the 67th congress, when he was defeated in the Harding Republican sweep, Mr. Rainey's service in the house of representatives was continuous.

He was taken ill at his home in Carrollton two weeks ago after an extensive speaking tour. His ailment was diagnosed as bronchial pneumonia and the speaker was brought here for hospital treatment.

Improvement was noted in Mr. Rainey's condition during the last week and yesterday he was thought to be markedly stronger.

His wish that he be cremated will be complied with, Mrs. Rainey declared. Funeral arrangements were to be announced later today.

The state department of agriculture has reported that one-third of Pennsylvania's farm homes have electricity.

Mido put on a snappy contest; Young DeMatteo opposed Joe Dimucio, in the 135-pound rank. This tussle was replete with action as was that staged by Merle Gibson and Bill Donnell, two heavyweights. Louis Sandler and P. J. Flaherty were the referees, Archie Cuno was timekeeper, Marion Cuno and John Mastrangelo were seconds, Harry Gibson and Preston Flaherty were the judges and Kiki Marino acted as the announcer.

The program continued with an athletic program. P. J. Flaherty next delivered a brief but appropriate speech of welcome. Mr. Flaherty then turned the program over to Anthony Marino. Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo pleased the throng with a delightful vocal solo. Miss Rita Granato, Thomas Pagley and Joseph Perrotta also rendered vocal selections.

The picnic will be remembered for a long time to come by the large crowd. SUNDAY ELECTION INTRENCHES HIM AS GERMAN CZAR

than ever. But now the government can challenge anybody who asserts the election was not free and the count was not honest.

Final figures show Hitler yesterday got 88 per cent of the votes cast, or 90 per cent of the valid votes against 95 per cent last year. Out of a total of 45,878,000 voters eligible yesterday he received but 83 per cent and if all the invalid votes plus the good votes were considered against Hitler they together with the uncast votes would amount to 17 per cent.

But Hitler's loss of 2,000,000 odd votes is regarded by the government as of no account against the overwhelming fact that he still got his commission from around 90 per cent of the populations.

How he got the commission is less important than the fact that he has it in a country where there is no one to question its validity. Nevertheless the real character of the plebiscite which gave him his commission may best be revealed by comparison.

Suppose after America entered the war there should have been staged a plebiscite wherein every adult in America was asked to answer the question "Are you for America or against her?" Suppose there had been an intensive nationwide campaign wherein every voter was impressed with the fact that he would be a traitor, as he obviously would, if he voted against America.

Put these impossible suppositions against a background of 18 months of political terror on the part of "pro-Americans" against any citizen who denied their right exclusively to represent America. Call intermittently all day long on every voter to see if he has voted. Then have George Washington, recently dead, deliver a political testament imploring the American people to vote for America, and finally, the night before have Washington's son broadcast an address saying that father was decidedly in favor of the pro-Americans, how many votes would be cast against the ticket?

War With World

What justifies the comparison is first, Hitler and his party have identified him with Germany; second, that Nazi Germany is spiritually at war with a hostile world.

Like every dictatorship when the times comes to ask the people for support, the Nazi dictatorship stresses danger to Germany from abroad. The rulers of Soviet Russia and nearby was the old Willeroy furnace. At one time some negotiators had a vision of a bridge at this point, but for some reason it never materialized. Had their vision materialized perhaps New Castle would now be what Rose Point is now. I want you to see the man who built this bridge, Clyde Moore."

Mr. Moore was introduced and acknowledged the introduction, but made no speech.

Judge James A. Chambers "Here in this county we have two good judges," said Chairman Rentz. "One of them is here today, Judge James A. Chambers, and I am going to call upon him."

"I congratulate you upon the completion of this splendid bridge," said Judge Chambers. "For a number of years it seemed as though Lawrence county was going to be cut off in the way of highways and bridges. We had to sit by and see our neighboring counties get highways and we were passed by."

"Some six or seven years ago this condition changed, and since then Lawrence county has been getting its share. We are fortunate in that we are now getting splendid highways built and bridges erected and I know as well as I do, that such things improve conditions for all of us."

The three county commissioners, P. O. Elder, A. E. Conner and F. R. Woods, were then called to the truck, which acted as a speakers' stand, and were introduced. A. E. Conner acted as spokesman for the commissioners and expressed the appreciation of the commissioners for the bridge. He expressed himself as always willing to co-operate with the State Highway Department and said he spoke the sentiment of his colleagues.

County Commissioner Edward R. Turner of Butler then introduced the speaker, who was introduced by Mr. Turner, "for this new bridge expedites traffic between Lawrence and Butler counties."

Senator Weingartner Former State Senator George T. Weingartner was next introduced. "This district is familiar ground to me," said Senator Weingartner. "At the old Rose Point Academy I received part of my education and for many years I lived in this township."

"In the past few years the state has spent much money in Lawrence county in the erection of bridges. The two at Wurtzburg and the one on the Perry highway at Muddy are entirely state built. The one at Willow Grove is fifty per cent state built, and in the future any bridges on state highways in the county will be erected by the state."

"The day is not far distant when all bridges and all highways in the state will be taken over by the state, and I believe I am pleased to be part of this program today and to join with you in the formal opening ceremonies for this bridge."

Assemblyman William McElwee, Jr., was next introduced and said in part: "The State Highway Department is to be congratulated upon its vision in erecting such bridges for the state which will be of great benefit to the people and will care for the needs for many years to come. As a member of the House of Representatives it was my privilege to have a part in the legislation taking over bridges such as this, and today I am happy to assist in the dedication of this splendid structure."

Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner, spoke for the Highway Department. Mr. Rentz had previously explained that Secretary of Highways Samuel S. Lewis would like to have been present, as would other officials, but that they were forced to leave New Castle earlier in the day to attend to some business in another part of the state. Mr. Lewis had been an overnight guest in the home of Mr. Rentz.

Grange Master Boak State Grange Master J. Audley Boak was introduced and like the others, expressed his pleasure at being present. He congratulated the county upon the completion of the new bridge and reviewed some of his earlier experiences in Slippery Rock township.

Former Assemblyman Bart Richards was the last speaker. He pointed out that the bridge was made possible through the fact that the Highway Department got its funds from gasoline taxes and other fees. He urged against any diversion of highway moneys and characterized the department as the most efficient state governmental department in Harrisburg.

Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner then cut a red ribbon dividing the bridge and the span was open for traffic. The car of Fred L. Rentz was the first car over, and following came a long stream of cars from the east and west.

and they found Jarnagin dead—a bullet just below the right ear. Police discovered the death weapon in the seat of a chair six feet from the chair in which Jarnagin's body was found.

The two chairs were so arranged, officers said, that it would have been impossible for Jarnagin to have tossed the pistol to the other chair in a sudden moment caused by the spasmodic agony of the fatal wound.

Instant Death Further, officers said, the wound indicated instantaneous death, prohibiting such a spasmodic gesture. Less than a month ago officers were called to the Franklin mansion by Miss Franklin and Jarnagin who reported that a houseboy, Lawrence Thomas, 21, angry over being discharged when refused work by the Franklin household, had attacked them and had injured Miss Franklin by striking her with a telephone.

Thomas was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He was released under bond.

SPEAKERSHIP FIGHT LOOMS AS RAINEY DIES

BYRNS AND MacDUFFIE POTENTIALLY STRONG

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—A stiff fight for speakership of the house was in prospect today following the death of Speaker Henry T. Rainey.

A half dozen candidates are expected to seek the mantle, with Rep. Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader and chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, the early favorite.

Among the potential candidates are: Rep. Bankhead of Alabama, chairman of the rules committee; Rep. McDuffie of Alabama, former rival of Rainey; Rep. Rankin of Mississippi as an ultra-progressive; Rep. Rayburn of Texas, a close friend of President Roosevelt; and Rep. C. C. Coker and Cullen Blease of the New York Tammany delegation.

The real fight for the speakership probably will be delayed until after the November election. The house will choose a speaker in January. A sudden reaction which carried Republicans into power would, of course, dispel all Democratic hopes.

The house may choose a speaker who is not a member. The name of former Governor Al Smith of New York has been mentioned in this class in the past. Rainey's opponent in the Illinois primary, H. J. "High Heels" Kirby, has announced his candidacy for the speakership.

President Roosevelt can, it is conceded, dominate the speakership if he chooses. The president is expected to adopt a "hands off" attitude.

St. Louis, Mo., Death has closed the lengthy public career of Henry Thomas Rainey, veteran congressman from the 20th Illinois district and speaker of the house of representatives.

Mr. Rainey died unexpectedly here last night in DePaul hospital from a sudden attack of angina pectoris. He had been ill for two weeks with a slight attack of bronchial pneumonia but had shown definite signs of improvement yesterday, physicians said.

Had he lived until today Speaker Rainey would have been 74 years old. Death came at 7:51 p. m.

Mrs. Rainey, who had been her husband's secretary for years, had spent the afternoon by her husband's side and had left in the early evening. She was cheered by his happy frame of mind and apparent evidence of improvement in his condition.

Speaker Rainey, a native of Carrollton, Ill., assumed the speakership at the start of his 15th term in congress in March, 1933. He succeeded John Naisner, former of Texas, now vice president.

Mr. Rainey was first elected to congress from the 20th Illinois district in 1902 on the Democratic ticket. With the exception of the 67th congress, when he was defeated in the Harding Republican sweep, Mr. Rainey's service in the house of representatives was continuous.

He was taken ill at his home in Carrollton two weeks ago after an extensive speaking tour. His ailment was diagnosed as bronchial pneumonia and the speaker was brought here for hospital treatment.

Improvement was noted in Mr. Rainey's condition during the last week and yesterday he was thought to be markedly stronger.

His wish that he be cremated will be complied with, Mrs. Rainey declared. Funeral arrangements were to be announced later today.

Mido put on a snappy contest; Young DeMatteo opposed Joe Dinuccio, in the 135-pound rank. This tussle was replete with action as was that staged by Merle Gibson and Bill Donnell, two heavyweights. Louis Sander and F. J. Flaherty were the referees. Archie Cumo was timekeeper. Marion Cumo and John Mastrangelo were seconds. Harry Gibson and Preston Flaherty were the judges and Kiski Marino acted as the announcer.

The program continued with an athletic program. P. J. Flaherty next delivered a brief but appropriate speech of welcome. Mr. Flaherty then turned the program over to Anthony Martino. Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo pleaded the throng with a delightful vocal solo. Miss Rita Granato, Thomas Pagley and Joseph Perrotta also rendered vocal selections.

The picnic will be remembered for a long time to come by the large crowd. The committee in charge, Anthony Martino, general chairman; Louis Bullano, Louis Forconi, Archie Cumo, Marion Cumo, Arthur Guinbaugh, John Mastrangelo, Burly Brown, John Ciccarelli, Mike Casella, Thomas Davis, Ralph Palo; kitchen committee, Mrs. Humbert Tranquillo, Miss Clara Tranquillo, Mrs. Clothilda Ross, Mrs. Nancy Brescia, Mrs. Mary Granato, Mrs. James Petterson, Mrs. Marion Cumo, Mrs. Wanda Pagley, Miss Mary Martucci, Mrs. John Mastrangelo; refreshment committee, Archie Cumo, Ray Davenport, Marion Cumo and Ralph Pisano.

James Petterson was the announcer.

SUNDAY ELECTION INTRENCHES HIM AS GERMAN CZAR

than ever. But now the government can challenge anybody who asserts the election was not free and the count was not honest.

Final figures show Hitler yesterday got 88 per cent of the votes cast, or 99 per cent of the valid votes against 95 per cent last year. Out of a total of 45,878,000 voters eligible yesterday he received but 83 per cent and if all the invalid votes plus the good votes were considered against Hitler they together with the uncast votes would amount to 17 per cent.

But Hitler's loss of 2,000,000 odd votes is regarded by the government as of no account against the overwhelming fact that he still got his commission from around 90 per cent of the populations.

How he got the commission is less important than the fact that he has it in a country where there is no one to question its validity. Nevertheless the real character of the commission which gave him his commission may best be revealed by comparison.

Suppose after America entered the war there should have been staged a plebiscite wherein every adult in America was asked to answer the question "Are you for America or against her?" Suppose there had been an intensive nationwide campaign wherein every voter was impressed with the fact that he would be a traitor, as he obviously would, if he voted against America.

Put these impossible suppositions against a background of 18 months of political terror on the part of "pro-Americans" against any citizen who denied their right exclusively to represent America. Call interminably all day long on every voter to see if he has voted. Then have George Washington, recently dead, deliver a political testament imploring the American people to vote for America, and finally, the night before have Washington's son broadcast an address saying that father was decidedly in favor of the pro-Americans, how many votes would be cast against the ticket?

What justifies the comparison is first, that his party have identified him with Germany, second, that Nazi Germany is spiritually at war with a hostile world.

Like every dictatorship when the times comes to ask the people for support, the Nazi dictatorship stresses danger to Germany from abroad. The rulers of Soviet Russia and nearby was the old Willerby furnace. At one time some men had a vision of a city at this point, but for some reason it never materialized. Had their vision materialized perhaps New Castle would be what Rose Point is now, a want you to see the man who built this bridge, Clyde Moore.

Mr. Moore was introduced and acknowledged the introduction, but made no speech.

Judge James A. Chambers "Here in this county we have two good judges," said Chairman Rentz. "One of them is here today, Judge James A. Chambers, and I am going to call upon him upon the completion of this splendid bridge."

"I congratulate you upon the completion of this splendid bridge," said Judge Chambers. "For a number of years it seemed as though Lawrence county was the forgotten man in the way of highways and bridges. We had to sit by and see our neighboring counties get highways and we were asked by them to contribute six or seven years ago this condition changed, and since then Lawrence county has been getting its share. We are fortunate in that we are now getting splendid highways built and bridges erected, and I know you feel as I do, that such things improve conditions for all of us."

The three county commissioners, O. Elder, A. E. Conner and F. R. Woods, were then called to the truck, which acted as a speakers' stand, and were introduced. A. E. Conner acted as spokesman for the commissioners and expressed his appreciation of the commissioners for the bridge. He expressed himself as always willing to co-operate with the State Highway Department and said he spoke the sentiment of his colleagues.

County Commissioner Edward R. Turner of Butler county was introduced and congratulated Lawrence county upon the new bridge. "We rejoice with you," said Mr. Turner, "for this new bridge expedites traffic between Lawrence and Butler counties."

Senator Weingartner Former State Senator George T. Weingartner was next introduced. "This district is familiar ground to me," said Senator Weingartner. "At the old Rose Point, where I received part of my education and for many years I lived in this township."

"In the past few years the state has spent much money in Lawrence county in the erection of bridges. The two at Wurttemberg and the one on the Ferry Highway at Muddy creek are among the best. The one at Willow Grove is fifty per cent state built, and in the future any bridges on state highways in the county will be erected by the state."

"The day is not far distant when all bridges and all highways in the state will be taken over by the state, I believe. I am pleased to be a part of this program today and to join with you in the formal opening ceremonies for this bridge."

Assemblyman William McElwaine, Jr., was next introduced and said in part: "The bridge is a happy outcome to be congratulated upon its vision in erecting such bridges for they look into the future and will care for the needs for many years to come. As a member of the House of Representatives it was my privilege to have a part in the legislation taking over bridges such as this and today I am happy to participate in the dedication of this splendid structure."

Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner spoke for the Highway Department. Mr. Rentz had previously explained that Secretary of Highways Samuel S. Lewis would like to state the present, as would other officials, but that they were forced to leave New Castle earlier in the day to attend to some business in another part of the state. Mr. Lewis had been an overnight guest in the home of Mr. Rentz.

Grange Master Book State Grange Master J. Audley Book was introduced and like the others, expressed his pleasure in the present. He congratulated the county upon the completion of the new bridge and reviewed some of his earlier experiences in Slippery Rock township.

Former Assemblyman Bart Richards was the last speaker. He pointed out that the bridge was made possible through the fact that the Highway Department got its funds from gasoline taxes and other fees. He urged against any diversion of highway moneys and characterized the department as the most efficient state governmental department in Harrisburg.

Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner then cut a red ribbon dividing the bridge and the span was open for traffic. The car of Fred L. Rentz was the first car over, and following it came a long stream of cars from the east and west.

and they found Jarnagin dead—a bullet just below the right ear. Police discovered the death weapon in the seat of a chair next to the one in which Jarnagin's body was found.

The two chairs were so arranged, officers said, that it would have been impossible for Jarnagin to have tossed the pistol to the other chair in a spasmodic motion caused by the sudden agony of the fatal wound.

Instant Death. Further, officers said, the wound indicated instantaneous death, prohibiting such a spasmodic gesture. Less than a month ago officers were called to the Franklin mansion by Miss Franklin and Jarnagin who reported that a houseboy, Lawrence Thomas, 21, angry over being discharged when refused use of the Franklin limousine, had attacked them and had injured Miss Franklin by striking her with a telephone. Thomas was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He was released under bond.

Young People Organize Society

Friday evening, August 17, 32 young people of the Church of the Nazarene went to Sligo where they took part in the organization of a young people's society.

On the return trip, with a party of young people from Butler they went through the glass factory at Parker's Landing.

They are now planning for the rally on Labor Day in the New Castle church and for the next Sunday evening meeting when a local chalk artist will give a talk and draw an illustration. Miss Hazel Fraley will be the speaker and there will be special music.

This back-to-the-land idea will go over big when planes in the next war begin wiping out cities.

REPORT CAPONE ON WAY TO ALCATRAZ

the most dangerous and notorious of the government prisoners were taken from the penitentiary cells here early Sunday morning and hustled aboard the coaches in the penitentiary siding.

At each stop the corps of federal guards, each carrying an automatic riot gun, deployed about the coaches and waved curiosity seekers away. Strict secrecy was employed along the route to guard against any approaching trains. The identities of the prisoners likewise were closely guarded.

But at New Orleans last night one of the prisoners nodded in the affirmative to a bystander who shouted the question: "Is Capone in there with you?"

Escape from Alcatraz Island, hemmed in by swift flowing tides, is considered impossible.

In leaving the prison here Capone quies his launch in the penitentiary shop, where he had worked since his 11-year sentence began three years ago.

Capone and his fellow convicts on the trip westward were kept in ignorance of their destination when they were awakened in the early dawn yesterday and led from their cells, one by one, to board the train.

Ten other federal prisoners from Pennsylvania were already in the coaches.

Funeral Costs Should Never Create Hardship

From ancient days to the present custom has demanded the best that resources could provide in a funeral. Sometimes this has resulted in hardship for the living.

At the Book-Leyde Mortuary it is not necessary to spend a greater amount than the family means should afford to obtain a satisfactory funeral. You make your own selection from an ample stock marked in plain prices for the complete funeral service.

Families in moderate circumstances would do well by adopting the plan we have suggested in these announcements... Come before need, and secure complete information about funeral procedure and costs. In doing this you will incur no obligation whatever.

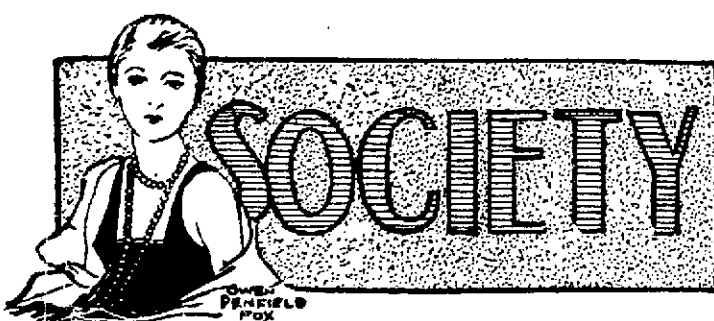

What justifies the comparison is first, that his party have identified him with Germany, second, that Nazi Germany is spiritually at war with a hostile world.

NO ANCESTOR WORSHIP

MARK TWAIN wept copiously at the grave of Adam, whom he believed to be his earliest ancestor. He lived in a romantic age. For it is not reported that anyone cried bitterly when Prof. Patten, of Dartmouth, at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, exhibited a fossil said to be a billion years old, and claimed that from it, a scorpion, were descended not only man, but spiders, reptiles, fishes and all mammals.

Gazing upon this ostracoderm, why were not the scientists strangely moved? Was it because this scorpion was not only their ancestor, but that of the alligator and the walleyed pike? Or did they credit him with the invention of the musical comedy joke, the office of constable, and other evils that have afflicted us since the memory of man runneth not? Surely, if one of us could be preserved for 10,000,000 centuries, we should expect a few kind words at our exhumation, perhaps a flower or two, and an expression of admiration at our beauty, of thanks for what we had done for the world.

But the hard-hearted scientists who gazed at ostracoderm and listened to Prof. Patten merely murmured "Oh, yeah?" and passed on to the next exhibit. That is what a billion years can do. That period hence, scientists may dig up the name of Rudy Vallee, and not be able to read it.

NO NEWS

A London newspaper of July 29 reports that for two days Dublin and southern Ireland were "curiously affected" by the non-publication of the Dublin morning and evening newspapers.

All sorts of rumors got into circulation, the wildest series of stories of developments in Central Europe became current and from the provinces came stories hardly less sensational. But for a settlement of the difficulty in the Dublin press rooms the public would have been deprived of news of the Dail (a major tragedy!) which was to meet a day or two later.

Well, it may affect the Irish that way but not us. Two days in which there was no news, in which the telephone did not ring, are two days one may hope for all his life without achieving. No news, at least every now and then, is good news; and the prospect of missing two days or longer of the news of a congressional session leaves us in a lather of unconcern.

It has always been rumored the Emerald Isle had its excellent points. There seems to be some foundation for the report, now.

CONSTITUTIONS

Constitutional revision seems to be a world issue in these days of governmental emergencies and social unrest. Wherever there are constitutions there is a demand and sometimes a need for revision.

Oddly, the younger constitutions have been undergoing the most drastic and frequent overhauling. The older ones have the stabilizing support of tradition and sentiment.

Not even Canada's constitution—the British North America Act—is safe from the revisionists. Under the pressure of economic distress there has arisen some agitation for a major operation on the statute. It is said to be outmoded, but that is the indictment brought against the latest crop of constitutions.

The only thing seriously wrong with the British North America Act is that its clauses for the decentralization of government conflicts with the depression needs of the seven sovereign provinces. The provinces cannot support their own unemployed and the constitution says the dominion government cannot.

New birth of freedom: The romantic way of describing a new set of bosses.

Men don't want economic justice. They merely want their own crowd to get something for nothing.

You'll notice that men seldom consider a thing "wrong in principle" unless it hurts their pocketbooks.

It isn't matrimony alone that kills romance. If she totes the pocketbook, how can he buy her flowers?

Mechanical marvels of this age don't prove all of us smart. "A monkey could learn to push buttons."

Recent earthquakes in Maine may have been only the preliminary tremors of the mighty shock that will come in September if prohibition is repealed.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOT DEPRESSED

Back in 1907, Arnold Talbot, of Germantown, of this state, found an old hand loom in his attic that had been gathering dust for many years. Out of curiosity, Talbot and his wife began experimenting with the old relic and soon were weaving towels, tablecloths, chair covers, tapestries, and similar linens.

Soon their neighbors wanted some of the same hand-woven material which could not be duplicated in the stores and before they knew it the Talbotts were kept busy filling such orders. Later on a son and daughter joined them.

As their business grew, they moved to the outskirts of the city where they now have a large factory operating twenty-one modern power looms, all because of their experimenting with the old antique they found in the attic.

I MET A GENTLEMAN

He looked shabby. He was slightly drunk. He asked me for a quarter, and told me that he was a gentleman.

I gave him a quarter and tried to forget that remark about his being a gentleman.

There were three points to be considered. I wanted to give him the quarter, because he needed it. I hesitated slightly because he was drunk. I resisted giving it to him because he was so insistent on that point about being a gentleman.

What did I care whether he was a gentleman or not? How did he know he was a gentleman? What IS a gentleman, anyway? Does a gentleman go around telling people that he is one, or is gentleness so deeply buried in a man's being that he never speaks of it either to himself or to anyone else?

You find gentlemen everywhere and you can't recognize them by their clothes. I know of a gentleman whom I have never seen, but I heard his voice. He may be dead, he may have died a few minutes after he spoke to me. I can't tell about that. The night was too dark and it's difficult to keep track of a fellow in the tangle of war. I'd gone up to the front to find some wounded, who were said to be lying behind a hedge. After driving over a field and wandering here and there I found a dozen American boys and got three of them into my car and started back. The roads were rough and rutted. It was raining. The night was horribly dark. We came to a black crossroads and I didn't know which to take. I had to wait until a starshell went up or until a shell exploded near so I could see. There wasn't a sound inside the car. I didn't know whether those boys were dead or unconscious.

Then a shell came. Closer than I had expected or wanted. It lit right in the center of that crossroads and all the landscape was hot, red, and fuming, made a big hole right there, and knocked a limb out of a tree and it crashed alongside. Then my poor old engine chugged out and I had to get out and crank it. A nice mess!

And a quiet voice from inside my car came to my ears: "Say, driver, don't you think we ought to be getting out of here?" Not complaining, not whining, not wanting to rattle me, just wanting to know, that's all. So we got out of there and I didn't see any of them again. But it's always seemed to me that that boy in my car, wounded and brave was a natural gentleman. He doesn't know it, but everybody else does. He wouldn't go around telling people he was a gentleman. He'd just be decent and do the right thing and forget all that nonsense about gentility. . . . And that's enough.

PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENTS

You may possess bona-fide shares of stock in reliable corporations, paying good dividends.

Perhaps you have been solicited to trade these stocks for others of a purely speculative nature.

The argument is made that these so-called big money stocks will bring you a much larger income than the reliable ones you possess.

Does it not stand to reason that if the stocks which are offered in trade are so much superior to those you possess that the owners would not want to dispose of them?

Because your securities are known to be reliable, there is a desire to procure them.

The stocks offered you might bring in larger dividends for a time, but in the end the chances are that you would be a loser.

Your principle thought in investment should be security.

You could not hope to receive enough to protect you in dividends should the stocks offered prove worthless.

Before you give serious consideration to relinquishing good stocks, consult your banker or those from whom you bought the securities.

Don't take a chance of losing good stock.

BASS FISHING

We take the morning off to dig for worms.

An hour or two for minnows next we seize.

'Tis wise to go for bass on even terms, as bait both worms and minnows may be vain.

So it is well to search the creeks and bogs. This evening they may possibly want frogs.

Then there's the boat! We've had a fall of rain.

And one of us must go and bail it out. You know we said we'd never fish again.

Unless we knew that every line was stout.

So run them off the reels! 'Tis worth the cost.

If it shall save one bass from being lost.

Now off we go to catch the wily bass A little weary but with hearts elate. Meanwhile the hours of evening slowly pass.

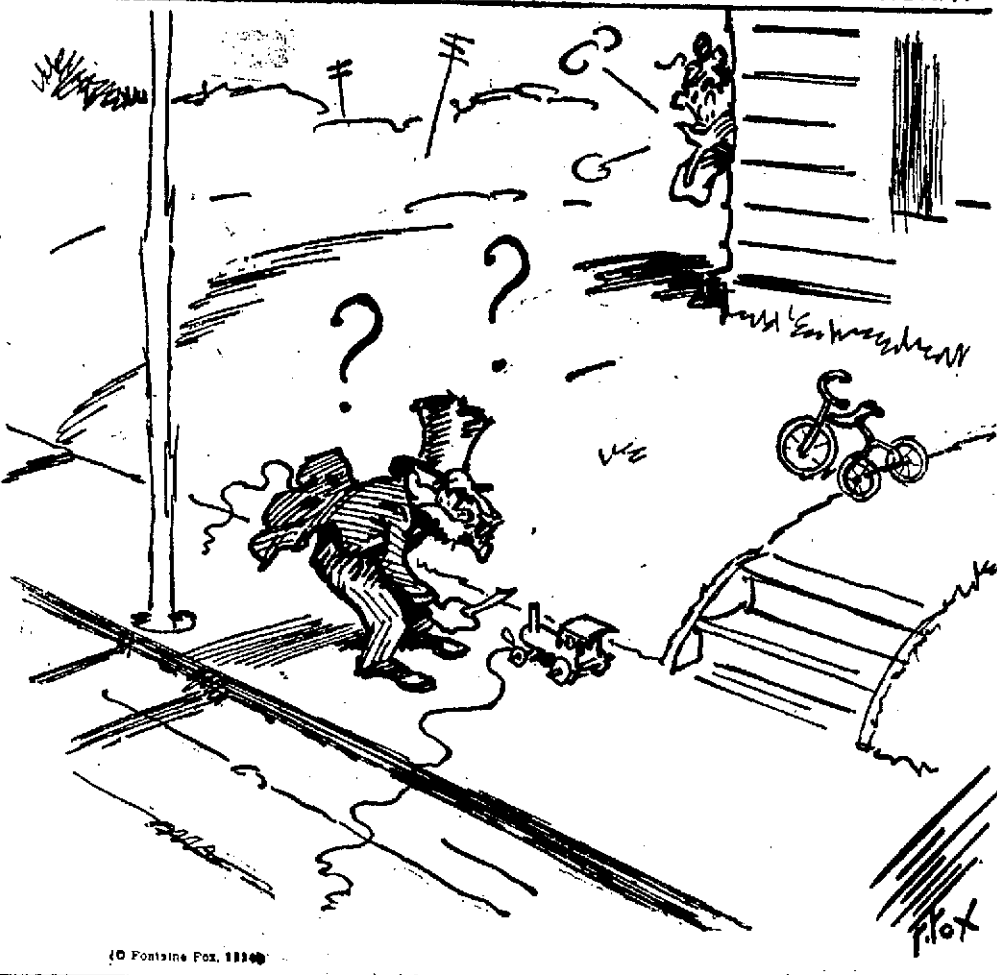

And still we hope and still we change the bait. But worms and frogs, and minnows tempt them not. We should have had a pork rind, but forgot.

One Great Problem Untouched Can Work Be Found For Youth? Will Youth Seize Command?

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Roosevelt administration soon will have to give a hand to solving a problem that has not yet been touched—yet it affects the future of the nation more than any other problem.

That problem is youth—how can youth find jobs, how can youth pursue careers?

There young men with splendid educations, out of school now for four and five and six years, who never have had a job.

Nothing could be more demoralizing to the generations than inevitably will rule within a comparatively few years.

Old men battle over this and that phase of the recovery program, long debates are held over mere technicalities—but hardly a person charts a course that will give youth a hand at the wheel.

What will the result be? Youth will rise here in desperation, as youth rises in Germany—and youth in its enthusiasm usually throws off the balance wheel of judgment.

Youth sometimes carries its enthusiasm to excesses—to cruel excesses.

YOUTH CANNOT STOP Youth cannot stop. More than age must move forward. Its enthusiasm curbed, its will set at naught, it turns to violence.

Youth produced the Alexander who conquered the known world.

Youth produced Napoleon, whose word at 29 was the law of a continent.

Youth produced Mussolini.

Youth did not produce Roosevelt.

Roosevelt, to youth, a product of the older age, the age that generated the World War.

Thus Roosevelt, to youth, is not the ultimate. To many he may not even be the beginning.

Even though Roosevelt has surrounded himself with young progressers, youth still looks upon them as dabblers at governing age and the institutions of age.

Any who have talked with youth will sense that fact.

Youth may not express such thoughts articulately, but in the troubled, staccato commentaries, the despairing bravado of the unemployed, one can read only too clearly how revolt is brewing.

What sort of government will rise? That may depend on the degree of desperation that will grip youth before it achieves either jobs or takes command.

What course?

What course can there be to provide jobs and careers for American youth?

The estimate of the number of unemployed in the United States—whether the figure be seven million or ten million or twelve million—does not take into account the youth who never have worked, yet seek work.

Each year hundreds of thousands of young men arrive at maturity. In twenty years from now they will rule, for they will be in the vast majority.

Now, whether we will it or not, the youth of today will impose its ideas. And, in its bitterness over finding no place to exert its talents, it will decree, at its midst, a program something like this:

1. A retirement of older workers with pensions—earlier and earlier retirement. And that, hand in hand with job insurance.

2. Immediate accession of youth into management, both in government and in industry.

3. A broad program of experimentation, both physical and political.

4. A closer conjunction of college and job.

What sort of government will rise? That may depend on the degree of desperation that will grip youth before it achieves either jobs or takes command.

What course?

What course can there be to provide jobs and careers for American youth?

The estimate of the number of unemployed in the United States—whether the figure be seven million or ten million or twelve million—does not take into account the youth who never have worked

I MET A GENTLEMAN

He looked shabby. He was slightly drunk. He asked me for a quarter, and told me that he was a gentleman.

I gave him a quarter and tried to forget that remark about his being a gentleman.

There were three points to be considered. I wanted to give him the quarter, because he needed it. I hesitated slightly because he was drunk. I resisted giving it to him because he was so insistent on that point about being a gentleman.

What did I care whether he was a gentleman or not? How did he know he was a gentleman? What is a gentleman, anyway? Does a gentleman go around telling people that he is one or gentlemanliness so deeply buried in a man's being that he never speaks of it either to himself or to anyone else?

You find gentlemen everywhere and you can't recognize them by their clothes. I know of a gentleman whom I have never seen, but I heard his voice. He may be dead, he may have died a few minutes after he spoke to me. I can't tell about that. The night was too dark and it's difficult to keep track of a fellow in the tangle of war. I'd gone up to the front to find some wounded who were said to be lying behind a hedge. After driving over a field and wandering here and there I found a dozen American boys and got three of them into my car and started back. The roads were rough and rutted. It was raining. The night was horribly dark. I came to a black crossroads and I didn't know which to take. I had to wait until a starshell went up or until a shell exploded near so I could see. There wasn't a sound inside the car. I didn't know whether those boys were dead or unconscious.

Then a shell came. Closer than I had expected or wanted. It lit right in the center of that crossroads and all the landscape was hot, red, and flaming. made a big light right there, and knocked a limb out of a tree and it crashed alongside. Then my poor old engine chugged out and I had to get out and crank it. A nice mess!

And a quiet voice from inside my car came to my ears: "Say, driver, don't you think we ought to be getting out of here?" Not complaining not whining, not wanting to rattle me, just wanting to know, that's all. So we got out of there and I didn't see any of them again. But it's always seemed to me that that boy in my car, wounded and brave was a natural gentleman. He doesn't know it, but everybody else does. He wouldn't go around telling people he was a gentleman. He'd just be a decent and do the right thing and forget all that nonsense about gentility. And that's the end.

PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENTS

You may possess bona-fide shares of stock in reliable corporations, paying good dividends.

Perhaps you have been solicited to trade these stocks for others of a purely speculative nature.

The argument is made that these so-called big money stocks will bring a good price in the future, and the reliable ones you possess.

Does it not stand to reason that if the stocks which are offered in trade are so much superior to those you possess that the owners would not want to dispose of them?

Because your securities are known to be reliable, there is a desire to acquire them.

The stocks offered you might bring in larger dividends for a time, but in the end the chances are that you would be a loser.

Your principle thought in investment should be security.

You could not hope to receive enough to protect you in dividends should the stocks offered prove worthless.

Before you give serious consideration to relinquishing good stocks, consult your banker or those from whom you bought the securities.

Don't take a chance of losing good stock.

BASS FISHING

We take the morning off to dig for worms;

An hour or two for minnows next we seize.

'Tis wise to go for bass on even terms,

As bait both worms and minnows may be vain.

So it is well to search the creeks and bays.

This evening they may possibly want frogs.

Then there's the boat! We've had a fall of rain

And one of us must go and bail it out.

You know we said we'd never fish again.

Unless we knew that every line was stout.

So run them off the reels! 'Tis worth the cost

If it shall save one bass from being lost.

Now off we go to catch the wily bass

A little weary but with hearts elate.

Meanwhile the hours of evening slowly pass

And still we hope and still we change the bait.

But worms and frogs and minnows tempt them not.

We should have had a pork rind, but forgot.

The World At A Glance

One Great Problem Untouched
Can Work Be Found For Youth?
Will Youth Seize Command?By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Roosevelt administration soon will have to give a hand to solving a problem that has not yet been touched—yet it affects the future of the nation more than any other problem.

What problem is youth—how can youth find jobs, how can youth pursue careers?

There young men with splendid educations, out of school now for four and five and six years, who never have had a job.

Nothing could be more demoralizing to the generations than inevitably will rule within a comparatively few years.

Old men battle over this and that phase of the recovery program, long debates are held over mere technicalities—but hardly a person charts a course that will give youth a hand at the wheel.

What will the result be? Youth will rise here in desperation, as youth rose in Germany—and youth in its enthusiasm usually throws off the balance wheel of judgment. Youth sometimes carries its enthusiasm to excesses—to cruel excesses.

YOUTH CANNOT STOP
Youth cannot stop. More than age it must move forward. Its enthusiasms curbed, it will set at naught, it turns to violence.

Youth produced the Alexander who conquered the known world. Youth produced Napoleon, whose word at 28 was the law of a continent.

Youth produced Mussolini. Youth produced Hitler. Youth did not produce Roosevelt.

Roosevelt, to youth, is a product of the older age, the age that generated the World War.

Thus Roosevelt, to youth, is not the ultimate. To many he may not even be the beginning.

Even though Roosevelt has surrounded himself with young professors, youth still looks upon them as dabblers at preserving age and the institutions of age.

Youth may not express such thoughts articulately, but in the troubled, staccato commentaries, the despairing bravado of the unemployed, one can read only too clearly how revolt is brewing.

MONDAY, AUGUST 20th.

The World War Day By Day—August 20, 1914—A staff lieutenant-colonel of the VIII army disregarded military etiquette and criticized his superior tactics in a protest sent direct to supreme headquarters at Coblenz.

The head command telephoned. Col. General Van Pritwitz and Gaffron, urging him to strike the flank of the oncoming Russian II army and prevent further invasion of East Prussia. The Van Pritwitz reply was "impossible." He thought he might need re-enforcements even to escape to the Vistula.

Von Moltke did not attempt to designate a successor; the command on the eastern front until he had talked to the Kaiser. As he mentioned one man after another, Wilhelm shook his head. Von Moltke, at the end of his list, reluctantly brought forward the name of a general who was forced to retire from the army in 1911 because he criticized the Kaiser's military policy.

"It is not to be thought of," declared the emperor, and terminated the interview. A little later he repressed his pride, changed his mind. A curt message to Von Moltke: "Appoint Von Hindenburg."

Within a few hours Von Hindenburg, 67, was hurrying to take command of an outnumbered, badly placed army threatened with annihilation and Erich von Ludendorff was on his way to be his chief of staff.

The same day the French army at last came in contact with the main German force the command of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria while a second German army, that of Van Heeringen, drew up west of Strassburg. The two armies, facing the forces of Castelnau and Dubail waited for the French attack in positions carefully selected and prepared.

In the battle that followed, named Morhange by the French and Metz by the Germans, French infantry men were beaten down by a storm of shells from heavy artillery that outgunned the French field guns, the famous "75's." They were also held up by barbed wire entanglement and trenches—this was the beginning of a new mode of warfare. A French corps broke and fled, and Maj. Gen. Ferdinand Foch came into the limelight for the first time by ably covering the rout and subsequent retreat with his 20th Corps, the French "Iron Corps."

The French invasion of Lorraine was over.

Germany scored another victory this day. Van Kluck's army entered Brussels, and turning half left, started for France.

NRA, as everyone probably knows, will cease to exist next mid-June, unless, in the meantime, congress extends its tenure.

The question occurred to me: If NRA is extinguished, will its extinction have a discouraging psychological effect, with an ensuing business decline a probability?

I put this query to Adviser Henderson.

"Well," he said, "the codes of fair practice, which NRA has established, have not, of course, altered human nature. There are as many chiselers as ever, but with NRA to reckon with, they find it difficult to cheat. NRA, being eliminated, it is a reasonable assumption that they would resume chiseling directly. NO ANCESTOR WORSHIP

MARK TWAIN wept copiously at the grave of Adam, whom he believed to be his earliest ancestor. He lived in a romantic age. For it is not reported that anyone cried bitterly when Prof. Patten, of Dartmouth, at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, exhibited a fossil said to be a billion years old, and claimed that from it, a scorpion, were descended not only man, but spiders, reptiles, fishes and all mammals.

Gazing upon this ostracoderm, why were not the scientists strangely moved? Was it because this scorpion was not only their ancestor, but that of the alligator and the walleyed pike? Or did they credit him with the invention of the musical comedy joke, the office of constable, and other evils that have afflicted us since the memory of man runneth not? Surely, if one of us could be preserved for 10,000,000 centuries, we should expect a few kind words at our exhumation, perhaps a flower or two, and an expression of admiration at our beauty, of thanks for what we had done for the world.

But the hard-hearted scientists who gazed at ostracoderm and listened to Prof. Patten merely murmured "Oh, yeah?" and passed on to the next exhibit. That is what a billion years can do. That period hence, scientists may dig up the name of Rudy Vallee, and not be able to read it.

NO NEWS

A London newspaper of July 29 reports that for two days Dublin and southern Ireland were "curiously affected" by the non-publication of the Dublin morning and evening newspapers.

All sorts of rumors got into circulation, the wildest series of stories of developments in Central Europe became current and from the provinces came stories hardly less sensational. But for a settlement of the difficulty in the Dublin press rooms the public would have been deprived of news of the Dail (a major tragedy!) which was to meet a day or two later.

Well, it may affect the Irish that way but not us. Two days in which there was no news, in which the telephone did not ring, are two days one may hope for all his life without achieving. No news, at least every now and then, is good news; and the prospect of missing two days or longer of the news of a congressional session leaves us in a lather of unconcern.

It has always been rumored the Emerald Isle had its excellent points. There seems to be some foundation for the report, now.

CONSTITUTIONS

Constitutional revision seems to be a world issue in these days of governmental emergencies and social unrest. Wherever there are constitutions there is a demand and sometimes a need for revision.

Oddly, the younger constitutions have been undergoing the most drastic and frequent overhauling. The older ones have the stabilizing support of tradition and sentiment.

Not even Canada's constitution—the British North America Act—is safe from the revisionists. Under the pressure of economic distress there has arisen some agitation for a major operation on the statute. It is said to be outmoded, but that is the indictment brought against the latest crop of constitutions.

The only thing seriously wrong with the British North America Act is that its clauses for the decentralization of government conflicts with the depression needs of the seven sovereign provinces. The provinces cannot support their own unemployed and the constitution says the dominion government cannot.

New birth of freedom: The romantic way of describing a new set of bosses.

Men don't want economic justice. They merely want their own crowd to get something for nothing.

Forty-foot highways will not help pleasure cars. The next step will be trucks 30 feet wide.

The World At A Glance

One Great Problem Untouched
Can Work Be Found For Youth?
Will Youth Seize Command?

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Roosevelt administration soon will have to give a hand to solving a problem that has not yet been touched — yet it affects the future of the nation more than any other problem.

That problem is youth—how can youth find jobs, how can youth pursue careers?

There young men with splendid educations, out of school now for four and five and six years, who never have had a job.

Nothing could be more demoralizing to the generations than inevitably will rule within a comparatively few years.

Old men battle over this and that phase of the recovery program, long debates are held over mere technicalities—but hardly a person charts a course that will give youth a hand at the wheel.

What will the result be? Youth will rise here in desperation, as youth rose in Germany—and youth in its enthusiasm usually throws off the balance wheel of judgment.

Youth sometimes carries its enthusiasm to excesses—to cruel excesses.

YOUTH CANNOT STOP

Youth cannot stop. More than age it must move forward. Its enthusiasms curbed, it will set at naught, it turns to violence.

Youth produced the Alexander who conquered the known world.

You produced Mussolini.

You produced Hitler.

You did not produce Roosevelt.

Roosevelt, to youth, is a product of the older age, the age that generated the World War.

Thus Roosevelt, to youth, is not the ultimate. To many he may not even be the beginning.

Even though Roosevelt has surrounded himself with young professors, youth still looks upon them as dabblers at preserving age and the institutions of age.

Any who have talked with youth will sense that fact.

Youth may not express such thoughts articulately, but in the troubled, staccato commentaries, the despairing bravado of the unemployed, one can read only too clearly how revolt is brewing.

Citizen League Outing Success

Over 1,000 Attend Italian-American Citizens League Picnic On Sunday

Over 1,000 persons were in attendance at the outing of the Italian-American Citizens League, held on Sunday at Neshannock Falls. The occasion was a success from every standpoint.

The program early in the afternoon was featured by a concert given by the Duke of Abruzzi band, under the direction of B. J. Biondi. The musical presentation was thoroughly enjoyed by the throng. The fourth ward bocce team was victorious in a close contest. The remainder of the program included basket dinner, concert by the Harmony Boys, distribution of 54 prizes and an athletic program.

What proved to be a thrilling event was the tug-of-war contest between the fifth ward and eighth ward teams. After a long struggle the fifth warders came through with flying colors. Joseph Pagley captured the bocce tournament staged during the day. The affair proved such a fine success that another outing will take place next year.

The following committee was responsible for the outcome: Joseph Nocera, general chairman; T. C. Richards, assistant general chairman; reception committee: Michael Fazzone, Dr. Warren V. Massaro, Paul DeCarbo, Anthony Villani, Frank C. Summers, Joseph Pagley, sports committee: Charles "Tip" Richards, Norman Cusino, John DeNoiro; transportation committee: Michael Covelli, Mario Frabotti, Santo Marchetti; grounds committee: Frank Retort; Anthony Sacco, Louis Bosco; tables committee: Carmen Blundo, Michael Casaccia, Patsy Alfaro.

Prize committee: Nicholas George, H. A. Fazzone; refreshment committee: Gabriel Armando, Nicholas Mastrolongo; publicity committee: T. C. Richards.

The following were winners in the different athletic contests: girls' race, ages 6-8, won by Anna George; boys' race, ages 6-8, won by Michael Orelli; girls' race, ages 9-12, won by Theresa Gnocchi; boys' race, ages 9-12, won by Albert Christopher; girls' race, ages 13-16, won by Arnie DeCarbo; boys' race, ages 13-16, won by Philip James; ladies' 50-yard dash, won by Josephine Bartolino; sack race, won by Tex Richards; fat ladies' race, won by Mrs. Paul Lombardo; fat men's race, won by Joseph Paglia; three-legged race, won by Sam Bobbino and Edward Ginochi.

Old men's race, won by Louis Bosco; running backward race, won by Tex Richards; shoe race, won by Thomas Rozzi; 100-yard dash, won by Tex Richards; bocce game, won by fourth ward team, 16-14.

During the course of the day the following were awarded prizes: Mrs. Nicholas George, Joseph Nocera, Frank Tossano, Sam Leonardo, Mrs. Mary Fazzone, T. C. Richards, Mrs. Joseph Leta, Jr., Sam Marchetti, Dr. Warren V. Massaro, Charles "Tip" Richards, Mrs. Adolph Valentin, H. A. August 20th, 1878—Sir Francis Drake, 36, became the first Englishman to traverse the Straits of Magellan, and entered the Pacific on a voyage to the west that was to take him around the world. He started British empire-building, turned English attention to the land called America.

(In passing the Straits he did not "round the Horn." Cape Horn is not, as many suppose, the southernmost point of the South American continent. Actually it is upon a small island 150 miles south of the continental mainland, and few persons ever have seen it.)

August 20th, 1683—The first German emigrants to come to America arriving on this date, wanted to go home as soon as they saw Philadelphia. Accustomed to orderly cities, they were disheartened by conditions they found in the New World. A few shacks hastily put up along muddy paths: that was the new city of "Brotherly Love."

Thus, periods of depression are periods favorable to real reform. The tendency in periods of prosperity is favorable to the status quo—"until it leads into another depression."

Commentators like my woman correspondent in the farm belt see all this with more than the accuracy of the big class politico-economist.

To be sure, he doesn't want the drouth to be "too serious"—reform will be of no avail to folk who already have starved to death. Nevertheless, he senses the danger in "too rapid recovery"—which "would indefinitely postpone some much-needed economic changes."

Thus, periods of depression are periods favorable to real reform. The tendency in periods of prosperity is favorable to the "status quo"—until it leads into another depression.

Commentators like my woman correspondent in the farm belt see all this with more than the accuracy of the biggest class politico-economist.

To be sure, she doesn't want the drouth to be "too serious"—reform will be of no avail to folk who already have starved to death. Nevertheless, she senses the danger in "too rapid recovery"—which "would indefinitely postpone some much-needed economic changes".

City street department employees have done a laudable piece of work in North Mercer street, north of Euclid avenue and within a few days the stretch between Sheridan and Euclid avenues will have been improved. Should the state highway department ever repave Highland avenue city officials will discover that North Mercer street will become one of the two main arteries north and south. One can reach the North Hill through Neshannock and Rural avenues, thence by a circuitous route continue north on Delaware avenue.

City Solicitor White was one of the main spokesmen at the League of Third Class cities convention and his subject was the Public Service commission. White told delegates the commissioners were a high type of servants but the system set up when the commission was created has proved wrong. He said the commission has become a "court." And by the way, he said that the commission has two rooms at Harrisburg which are two of the most beautiful "courtrooms" he has ever been in.

Councilmen were busy last week despite their absence from the city. Councilman Alexander attended the league of Third class cities convention at Harrisburg and Messrs Davies, Hoyland and Butler participated in the dedication of the Pymatuning swamp. Two council sessions were held, the first on Monday and the second on Friday.

Union township supervisors are anxious that Harry Hoskins, the city engineer, start his survey so that the supervisors can tell Union township property owners how much the city will expect them to pay for connections with the city sanitary sewer system. The request for a connection has been before the city for years.

Sabelli and Pond Dash Hopes For Round-Trip Flight Over Atlantic Ocean

(International News Service)
FISHGUARD, Pembrokeshire, Wales, Aug. 20.—Hopes of George R. Pond and Cesare Sabelli to complete a round-trip Atlantic flight this year apparently lay dashed today in the wreckage of their plane, crushed against a mountainside two miles from here.
The fliers, who had flown the plane to Ireland from New York last May, escaped unhurt as it crashed into the mountain at 4 a. m., yesterday. They had been lost for many hours, in fog, rain and darkness, on a flight from Rome. Their destination was Dublin, and they planned to make an east-west Atlantic crossing as soon as the weather permitted.

Ford Will Spend Ten Million For Plant Improving

Expansion Program Of Gigantic Proportions Announced By Henry Ford Today

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Aug. 20.—A $10,000,000 expansion program in its River Rouge plant, at Dearborn, was announced today by the Ford Motor company.

The expansion will take place in the next ten months.

Contracts have been signed by Henry Ford, according to an announcement by the company, for one of the largest capital improvements made by any industrial concern in this country in recent years.

Five and a half millions of the outlay will be used to double the power capacity of the Dearborn plant by purchase of new generators, boilers and auxiliary equipment.

The new equipment includes a 110,000 kilowatt generator, a high pressure boiler and a 15,000 kilowatt turbine generator unit.

The program of expansion is necessitated, company officials explained, by the enlargement of the River Rouge Steel plant. The rest of the money will be expended in iron and coal mine operations and installation of auxiliary machinery.

Relief Load Hits Year's High Peak;
Now 4,150 Cases

"Case Load" Figures Rise Over Same 1933 Period; Drop 132 Cases

Rising to its highest peak since early this year, the "relief case load" of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board totaled 4,150 cases at the close of business on Saturday, August 18, it was announced today. The 4,150 cases represented over 20,000 persons.

One year ago the office had 2,981 cases on relief which represented 12,400 persons.

The low-point in the case load, the office reported, was reached early this year when CWA activity was launched, and since then the relief dependents have increased continuously.

During the week which ended Saturday the office received 109 new applications for relief from families never before on relief and 57 re-applications from families which at one time had been on relief but which withdrew because they had found employment.

Helping to offset the new applications were the 132 cases discontinued because employment had been found or because relief visitors had found that recipients were not in need of it.

It was pointed out that the figures recording the new applications were exclusive of a large number of cases automatically added to the rolls as a result of the gradual curtailment of RWD work.

Wants Possession Of Property Bought
At Sheriff Sale

Belle Williams presented a petition in court this morning asking for a citation on K. C. The sale was at suit of the First National Bank of New Wilmington, use of the plaintiff. Title to the property was formerly vested in John L. Cox. Judge Chambers issued a citation as asked.

Ford Will Spend Ten Million For Plant Improving

Expansion Program Of Gigantic Proportions Announced By Henry Ford Today

(International News Service) DETROIT, Aug. 20.—A $10,000,000 expansion program in its River Rouge plant, at Dearborn, was announced today by the Ford Motor company.

The expansion will take place in the next ten months. Contracts have been signed by Henry Ford, according to an announcement by the company, for one of the largest capital improvements made by any industrial concern in this country in recent years.

First and a half millions of the outlay will be used to double the power capacity of the Dearborn plant by purchase of new generators, boilers and auxiliary equipment. The new equipment includes a 110,000 kilowatt generator, a high pressure boiler and a 15,000 kilowatt turbine generator unit.

CANADIAN POLICE SEARCH FOR "SNATCH" CLUE

Air Of Secrecy Surrounds Hunt For Kidnapers

Officers Refuse To Give Out Any Information As They Vainly Seek Clue

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 20.—In an atmosphere of the utmost secrecy, the people today renewed their efforts to catch up on a "cold trail" and track down the four men who perpetrated Canada's first major kidnapping—the abduction of John S. Labatt, wealthy brewer.

It was impossible to learn what progress—if any—was being made by the police. But the impression seemed to be growing that the authorities were up against a stone wall.

So far as known, the police have been unable to develop a single promising clue. Labatt himself will not talk. He was still in seclusion today at the home of his brother, Hugh Labatt, in London. He was almost completely recovered from the ordeal he went through.

Believe Ransom Paid
Neither Labatt nor the police have yet revealed whether any ransom was paid. The general belief, however, is that the kidnapers exacted about $50,000 from the Labatt family before they released their prisoner on the outskirts of Toronto.

The only explanation for the failure of Labatt and his brother Hugh to tell the authorities the brewer had been freed is that John Labatt must have been warned by the kidnapers to keep his lips sealed and give the "snatch" gang plenty of time to get away.

Canadian police, who have a fine record for tracking down criminals, were "burned up" by the fact the Labatts did not let them know for four hours that John had been freed.

Whether John Labatt told the police all he knows is still a matter of conjecture. It is naturally this strange aspect of the case has aroused a lot of speculation and rumors. The continued silence of Labatt has served to increase the number and variety of the rumors.

May Talk
It may be Labatt will talk in a day or two, after he has completely recovered. His sister Mrs. K. C. Scatchard, said he is now out of bed and feeling much better.

Two prominent men of London, both of whom are supposed to be acting as spokesmen for Labatt, are R. G. Ivey and the Hon. J. C. Elliott K. C., but neither of them have given much information to the press. Ivey has refused point blank to talk. Elliott talked freely but frankly admitted he was in the dark concerning many unexpected angles of the case.

The consensus that the kidnapers were professionals and experienced in the "snatch racket" the daring manner in which they carried their work out and the brazen way they dumped Labatt out on the outskirts of Toronto to far where the police were concentrated seemed to clinch the impression they were professionals who were operating coolly and along a preconceived plan.

Search for the kidnapers is extending along a wide front on both sides of the border—roughly from Detroit to Montreal.

Japan's General Warning.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FLEISCHMANN'S, N. Y., Aug. 20.

JOHN S. LABATT, Canadian brewer, is set free by his kidnapers, with nerves unstrung, eyes badly inflamed, from prolonged bandaging with adhesive tape. Canadian police seem to have found no way around our American custom of buying back a kidnaped man.

The Canadian officials' report spoke of a "cash transaction." The word "cash" was taken out before the report was published, but the cash was in the "transaction."

OUR GOVERNMENT'S efforts, aided by professors and agricultural experts, to keep down surplus wheat production, proves to be a success. Instead of surplus hundreds of millions of bushels, this country is short of wheat. Paying farmers cash NOT to plant wheat, plus the drought helped foreign countries that have wheat for sale.

WE ALSO HELPED one foreign country when this government took away all gold belonging to Americans and raised the price of the metal to thirty-five dollars an ounce.

England has the gold mines, the British-owned Rand in South Africa alone producing 57 per cent of the world's gold. We could not have done England a greater favor, had we, by law, added one dollar a pound to the price that Americans must pay for rubber, also controlled by Britain. Do you wonder the pound stands so far above the dollar, although both are on paper, no gold basis?

WE HAVE WISE MEN in our government, also in the foreground, or the background, some that a careful naturalist would classify as "boobs." Not boobs, however, were the gold mine owning schemers that put through the gold price rise.

You are not surprised that one gold mine of the Rand, the "Robinson Deep Limited," of Witwatersrand, now working gold ore at a depth of eight thousand five hundred feet, should spend half a million dollars on an air-cooling plant, pumping 400,000 cubic feet of freezing air a minute into the depth of the mine to overcome the intense heat.

WITH TEMPERATURE comfortable, the men, underpaid African natives, will work harder, produce more ore, and engineers say it will be possible to sink and work the mine fifteen hundred feet deeper. Heaven knows how far down the gold may reach.

No NRA rules disturb the British mine owners that are trading their ounce of South African gold for thirty-five American dollars.

SILVER is the American metal. It is the only money known to seventy-five per cent of all human beings on earth. It could make this country independent of British gold from Africa to Canada, and end depression by making money plentiful.

But, beyond telling Americans "silver, like gold, is too good for you, hand it over," and printing a silver certificate to pacify rampant silver men, this government has done nothing for silver, its own metal, thus far. Who is it that persuades the President to permit running the finances of this country as they would be run by a committee of pawn brokers, anxious for more customers?

THE WEEK'S most important news tells of a vaccine for infantile paralysis. Doctor John A. Kolmer, director of the research institute of cutaneous medicine, of Philadelphia, declared positively that his new vaccine makes human beings immune to infantile paralysis. Our humble alleged distant cousins the monkeys acted as living laboratories for the experiment and supplied the vaccine that may prove a blessing to millions.

THE BLOOD OF MONKEYS is so much like human blood that it might be interchanged between a higher ape man and, experimenting with monkeys, gives as good results as would experimenting with human beings, which is forbidden. Many, kind-hearted, will say that violent section should be forbidden for monkeys also, especially if they are related to us. Second thought will convince them that for a few monkeys to suffer a little is not as bad as having thousands of human beings go through life partly paralyzed. The monkeys themselves, forty of them, were used in experiments, were made immune to the disease after injection of the vaccine made from the monkey's spinal cord.

Dr. Kolmer and his aide vaccinated themselves, and he expects to vaccinate his two children, believing that such vaccination will become almost universal in childhood, like vaccination against smallpox.

This will distress faith healers and assorted sincere groups who believe that disease should be cured miraculously.

JAPAN, offended because Russia suggests that she, Japan, plans to take Russia's Eastern European railroad without paying Russia's price, considers "sending a general warning to Moscow as the next step in gravely strained relations."

It would not be a threatening warning, says Japan, just a "general" warning, but Russia, now having plenty of flying machines, with assorted bombs and poison gas to match, and a valuable flying base at Vladivostok, only seven hours flight from Tokyo, would not take kindly to warnings, even general warnings.

Something might happen, although lately the war clouds seemed to be growing lighter.

HITLER SAYS he was forced to seize the German presidency "by a hostile world," and perhaps he was, for he better than any one, knows how dangerous a transition period might be so soon after the house-cleaning message.

Hitler announces, "I back my politics with my life," and he does with that life in constant danger. Lloyd's Great Britain insurance concern will insure against almost anything, at a price, but will not insure Hitler's life at any premium.

Bridge Opening Pictures Taken By New York Man

Moving Pictures Taken At Rose Point Saturday—Also At McConnell's Mills

Moving pictures of the Rose Point bridge opening were taken Saturday afternoon by Eddie Edwards, of New York City, a cameraman now on location with "Lincoln Pictures Classic, Inc." Mr. Edwards, with Miss Laurel Love (Mrs. Henry Belmar) were the guests of Donald Dinsmore, of New Castle, at the bridge opening.

Mr. Edwards and Miss Love are in New Castle for a short stay in interest of the production of a historical picture. They have taken a number of scenes of the old McConnell's Mill and vicinity for use in the "Resurrection of Nancy Hanks" picture.

Mr. Edwards is eagerly awaiting the return of the developed film from the laboratory where he sent it because of a long shot of the Rose Point bridge in which he used a special device of his own to bring out the third dimension. He devotes all his spare moments to perfecting his third dimension patent.

CANADIAN POLICE SEARCH FOR "SNATCH" CLUE

Officers Refuse To Give Out Any Information As They Vainly Seek Clue

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 20.—In an atmosphere of the utmost secrecy, the people today renewed their efforts to catch up on a "cold trail" and track down the four men who perpetrated Canada's first major kidnapping—the abduction of John S. Labatt, wealthy brewer.

It was impossible to learn what progress—if any—was being made by the police. But the impression seemed to be growing that the authorities were up against a stone wall.

So far as known, the police have been unable to develop a single promising clue.

Labatt himself will not talk. He was still in seclusion today at the home of his brother, Hugh Labatt, in London. He was almost completely recovered from the ordeal he went through.

Believe Ransom Paid

Neither Labatt nor the police have yet revealed whether any ransom was paid. The general belief, however, is that the kidnappers exacted about $50,000 from the Labatt family before they released their prisoner on the outskirts of Toronto.

The only explanation for the failure of the police to develop a single promising clue is that the kidnappers were professionals.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid, the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonard was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leonard's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Ecker's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money-back."

ure of Labatt and his brother Hugh to tell the authorities the brewer had been freed is that John Labatt must have been warned by the kidnapers to keep his lips sealed and give the "snatch" gang plenty of time to get away.

Canadian police, who have a fine record for tracking down criminals, were "burned up" by the fact the Labatts did not let them know for four hours that John had been freed.

Whether John Labatt told the police all he knows is still a matter of conjecture. Naturally this strange aspect of the case has aroused a lot of speculation and rumors. The continued silence of Labatt has served to increase the number and variety of the rumors.

May Talk

It may be Labatt will talk in a day or two, after he has completely recovered. His sister Mrs. K. C. Scatchard, said he is now out of bed and feeling much better.

Two prominent men of London, both lawyers, are supposed to be acting as spokesmen for Labatt. They are R. G. Ivey and the Hon. J. C. Elliott, K. C. Search for the kidnappers is extending along a wide front on both sides of the border—roughly from Detroit to Montreal.

No NRA rules disturb the British mine owners that are trading their ounce of South African gold for thirty-five American dollars.

SILVER is the American metal. It is the only money known to seventy-five per cent of all human beings on earth. It could make this country independent of British gold from Africa to Canada, and end depression by making money plentiful.

But, beyond telling Americans "silver, like gold, is too good for you, hand it over, and printing a few silver certificates to pacify rampant silver men, this government has done nothing for silver, its own metal, thus far. Who is it that persuades the President to permit running the finances of this country as they would be run by a committee of pawn brokers, anxious for more customers?

THE WEEK'S most important news tells of a vaccine for infantile paralysis. Doctor John A. Kolmer, director of the research institute of cutaneous medicine, of Philadelphia, declared positively that his new vaccine makes human beings immune to infantile paralysis. His humble alleged distant cousins the monkeys acted as living laboratories for the experiment and supplied the vaccine that may prove a blessing to millions.

section should be forbidden for monkeys also, especially if they are related to us. Second thought will convince them that for a few monkeys to suffer a little is not as bad as having thousands of human beings go through life partly paralyzed. The monkeys themselves, forty of them, were used in experiments, were made immune to the disease after injection of the vaccine made from the monkey's spinal cord.

Dr. Kolmer and his aide vaccinated themselves, and he expects to vaccinate his two children, believing that such vaccination will become almost universal in childhood, like vaccination against smallpox.

This will distress faith healers and assorted sincere groups who believe that disease should be cured miraculously.

Not any of them, however, have been brilliantly successful in curing infantile paralysis.

JAPAN, offended because Russia suggests that she, Japan, plans to take Russia's Chinese Eastern railroad without paying Russia's price, considers "sending a general warning to Moscow as the next step in gravely strained relations."

It would not be a threatening warning, Japan, just a "general" warning, but Russia, now having plenty of flying machines, with assorted bombs and poison gas to match, and a valuable flying base at Vladivostok, only seven hours flight from Tokyo, would not take kindly to warnings, even general warnings.

Something might happen, although lately the war clouds seemed to be growing lighter.

Reis Again Wins Gold Cup Motor Boat Speed Race

Former New Castle Man Retains Trophy After Recent Victory

George Reis, of New York, former New Castle boy, who won the Gold Cup motor boat race, last year, at Detroit, retained these honors last week, when his speed boat, El Lagarto, which he piloted himself, nosed out all other entries in the blue ribbon event of American motor boat racing at Lake George.

An interesting article appeared about Reis in The New Yorker, last week, which in addition to being a brief biography, also told how he became interested in speed boat racing.

Mr. Reis, although interested in motorboats since 1901, never had much success until 1931. Although he lost the Gold Cup race that year because of a cracked piston, he won the National Sweepstakes and the President's cup, at Washington.

Last year, he won the Gold Cup, considered the highest honor in motorboat racing, and also the President's Cup, which was presented to him by President Roosevelt in person. Mr. Roosevelt in giving him the gold trophy, accused him of hoarding gold.

Renewed Efforts Begin For Settling Of Strike, Federal Conciliator Active

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Discussions between company, union and government representatives were to be taken up this afternoon as renewed efforts began for settling the strike that has tied up plants of the Aluminum Company of America in scattered sections of the country.

Fred Kelightly, federal labor department conciliator, was to meet with Roy A. Hunt, president of the company, and other company and union officials. Boris Shishkin, of the American Federation of Labor, was to head the unionists in the meeting.

Results of the conference will be announced tonight at a mass meeting of the union leaders in New Kensington.

Meanwhile, picket lines continued to patrol the areas near the gates of the plants here to prevent any effort by workers to go into the units. No disorders were reported at any of the plants where about 4,000 workers are on strike.

Officers Refuse To Give Out Any Information As They Vainly Seek Clue

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 20.—In an atmosphere of the utmost secrecy, the people today renewed their efforts to catch up on a "cold trail" and track down the four men who perpetrated Canada's first major kidnapping—the abduction of John S. Labatt, wealthy brewer.

It was impossible to learn what progress—if any—was being made by the police. But the impression seemed to be growing that the authorities were up against a stone wall.

So far as known, the police have been unable to develop a single promising clue.

Labatt himself will not talk. He was still in seclusion today at the home of his brother, Hugh Labatt, in London. He was almost completely recovered from the ordeal he went through.

Believe Ransom Paid
Neither Labatt nor the police have yet revealed whether any ransom was paid. The general belief, however, is that the kidnapers exacted about $50,000 from the Labatt family before they released their prisoner on the outskirts of Toronto. The only explanation for the fall-

ure of Labatt and his brother Hugh to tell the authorities the brewer had been freed is that John Labatt must have been warned by the kidnapers to keep his lips sealed and give the "snatch" gang plenty of time to get away.

Canadian police, who have a fine record for tracking down criminals, were "burned up" by the fact the Labatts did not let them know for four hours that John had been freed.

Whether John Labatt told the police all he knows is still a matter of conjecture. Naturally this strange aspect of the case has aroused a lot of speculation and rumors. The continued silence of Labatt has served to increase the number and variety of the rumors.

May Talk

It may be Labatt will talk in a day or two, after he has completely recovered. His sister Mrs. K. C. Scatchard, said he is now out of bed and feeling much better.

Two prominent men of London, both lawyers, are supposed to be acting as spokesmen for Labatt. They are R. G. Ivey and the Hon. J. C. Elliott, K. C., but neither of them have given much information to the press. Ivey has refused point blank to talk. Elliott talked freely but frankly admitted he was in the dark concerning many unexpected angles of the case.

The consensus that the kidnapers were professionals and experienced in the "snatch" racket, the daring manner in which they carried their work out and the brazen way they dumped Labatt out on the outskirts of Toronto not far where the police were concentrated seemed to clinch the impression they were coolly and along premeditated plan.

Search for the kidnapers is extending along a wide front on both sides of the border—roughly from Detroit to Montreal.

Money Bought Freedom.
Dear, Simple Uncle Sam.
Thanks To Monkey Cousins.
Japan's General Warning.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FLEISCHMANN'S, N. Y., Aug. 20.

JOHN S. LABATT, Canadian brewer, is set free by his kidnapers, flamed from prolonged bandaging with adhesive tape. Canadian police seem to have found no way around our American custom of buying back a kidnapped man.

The Canadian officials' report spoke of a "cash transaction." The word "cash" was taken out before the report was published, but the cash in the "transaction."

OUR GOVERNMENT'S efforts, aided by professors and agricultural experts, to keep down surplus wheat production, proves to be a success. Instead of surplus hundreds of millions of bushels, this country is short of wheat. Paying farmers cash NOT to plant wheat, plus the drought, helped foreign countries that have wheat for sale.

WE ALSO HELPED one foreign country when this government took away all gold belonging to Americans and raised the price of the metal to thirty-five dollars an ounce. England has the gold mines, the British-owned Rand in South Africa alone producing 57 per cent of the world's gold. We could not have done England a greater favor, had we, by law, added one dollar a pound to the price that Americans must pay for rubber, also controlled by Britain. Do you wonder the pound is so far above the dollar, although both are on paper, no gold basis?

WE HAVE WISE MEN in our government, also in the foreground, or the background, some that a careful naturalist would classify as "boobs." Not bores, however, were the gold mine owning schemers that put through the gold price rise. You are not surprised that one gold mine of the Rand, the "Robinson Deep Limited," of Witwatersrand, now working gold ore at a depth of eight thousand five hundred feet, should spend half a million dollars on an air-cooling plant, pumping 400,000 cubic feet of freezing air a minute into the depth of the mine to overcome the intense heat.

WITH TEMPERATURE comfortable, the men, underpaid African natives, will work harder, produce more ore, and engineers say it will be possible to sink and work the mine fifteen hundred feet deeper. Heaven knows how far down the gold may reach.

NO NRA rules disturb the British mine owners that are trading their ounce of South African gold for thirty-five American dollars.

Former New Castle Man Retains Trophy After Recent Victory

George Reis, of New York, former New Castle boy, who won the Gold Cup motor boat race, last year, at Detroit, retained these honors last week, when his speed boat, El Lagarto, which he piloted himself, won the gold cup trophy in the blue ribbon event of American motor boat racing at Lake George.

An interesting article appeared about Reis in The New Yorker, last week, which in addition to being a brief biography, also told how he became interested in speed boat racing.

Mr. Reis, although interested in motorboats since 1901, never had much success until 1931. Although he lost the Gold Cup race that year because of a cracked piston, he won the National Sweepstakes and the President's cup, at Washington.

Last year, he won the Gold Cup, the highest honor in American motorboat racing, and also the President's cup, which was presented to him by President Roosevelt in person. Mr. Roosevelt in giving him the gold trophy, accused him of hoarding gold.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Discussions between company, union and government representatives were to be taken up this afternoon as renewed efforts began for settling the strike that has tied up plants of the Aluminum Company of America in scattered sections of the country.

Fred Keightley, federal labor department conciliator, was to meet with Roy A. Hunt, president of the company, and other company and union officials. Boris Shishkin, of the American Federation of Labor, was to head the unionists in the meeting.

Results of the conference will be announced tonight at a mass meeting of the union leaders in New Kensington.

Meanwhile, picket lines continued to patrol the areas near the gates of the plants here to prevent any effort by workers to go into the units. No disorders were reported at any of the plants where about 4,000 workers are on strike.

THE NEW YORK GIANTS

The pennant-mad Detroit Tigers with their unexpected spurt in the American league have shoved the New York Giants out of the spotlight despite the merry pace set by the National loop leaders. However, New York has a team which is probably more remarkable than the Bengals.

What is it the Giants have which makes them the class of the circuit? They have maintained a comfortable lead which is gradually broadening into a wide gap but yet they have theoretical weaknesses which apparently affect them very little.

They have an old timer on shortstop who was supposed to have been washed up after the 1931 season. On second base they have a little 145 pound veteran, 34 years old, who is batting at a .229 mark. Third base is covered by a fellow who is supposed to be an erratic fielder and is batting only .320.

Center field is patrolled by two men, both of whom started the current season in the Southern association. Left field is taken care of by a 155 pounder who looks like an invalid. And the man who was chiefly responsible for the efficient pitching, catcher Mancuso, was on the sidelines during the early months recovering from a fever attack. Gus is batting at a .142 clip now.

One would think such conditions enough to embed a team in the second division. However, the Giants possess strength even in apparent weaknesses.

The little second baseman who bats .229 is the classiest fielder at the keyhole sack in the league. This old man with the bad knee is hitting and fielding in such fashion as to again be acclaimed the best shortstop in the league.

Joe Moore, the sickly looking outfielder, has been batting at a .344 clip and proving to be the most efficient lead-off man in the circuit. Johnny Vander has fit into the Giant brand of play well enough to take care of third satisfactorily.

New York can always count on Hubbell in crucial games when a victory is definitely needed. The star southpaw has a strong supporting cast in Schumacher, Fitzsimmons, and Parnesse.

While the pitching averages of Hubbell are of high quality, they do not do full justice to the great pitcher's ability. Carl can keep everything under control at all times. Consequently, when the Giants have established a lead, he can keep the situation in hand by bearing down if he has to.

Next to the pitching staff, the chief reason for the Giants being in first place, is the hitting of Terry and Ott. This combination has become even more dangerous than the famous murderers' row of the Yankees.

New York has the leading hitter in the National loop batting third. He is immediately followed by the leading home run hitter in the league. This combination records two or more runs more often than any other that could be selected in the league. Terry gets on base more times than any other player and Ott cleans the sacks with greater frequency than anyone else in the loop.

So while the other clubs are leading in club batting and club fielding, and opposing pitchers are pacing the league in wins and strikeouts, the Giants are out in front in the department that really counts. They play smart baseball, backed by a steady mound staff, a great batting duo, and plenty of determination. Yes sir, the Giants are really an outstanding outfit.

Union-Scarazzo Series To Open Tuesday Evening

Unions And Scarazzos Will Play Five Game Series
For Title

Softball fans of New Castle will flock to Centennial Field Tuesday evening for the opening game of a five game series for the championship of the American softball league between the Unions and Scarazzos. The game will start at 5:45 o'clock.

The teams are natural rivals. A great series is looked for. There will be many sparkling plays. Heavy hitting that the fans like. The games should draw the biggest crowds of the year to Centennial field.

Ritchie-Bartlett
"We will end this series in three straight games" was the way Manager John Fair of the Unions put it today.

"I intend to shove my star moundman Al Ritchie in against the Scarazzos, Tuesday, Ritchie will be after his 27th victory of the season" said Fair.

Buddy Marino and Stanley Coppenski had this to say: "We are not predicting any victories, but you can bet that the Scarazzos will be in the series up to their ears, and it will not be a walkaway."

The Scarazzos will probably pitch Bartlett tomorrow night.

President Charles "Bugs" Waither has assigned Earl Riley as umpire for the first game. Bravovky at first and Denis at third base. Huston will be an alternate umpire for the series.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

There will be no scarcity of fans Tuesday at West Pittsburg as the third game of the series for the Lawrence league title will be staged. Bessemer and West Pittsburg each have won a game. Snyder held West Pittsburg at bay in the opener. F. Bravovky held Bessemer in the palm of his glove yesterday.

Twenty-two members of the New Castle club spent the week end at the football camp Muddy Creek Falls, which is under the supervision of Ralph Gardner. The former high school athletes spent the time in golfing, tennis, swimming and cards. The committee which was in charge of the annual get together consisted of Attorney Joe McPate, Dr. J. F. McIntosh and Attorney Charles Ross.

Sammy Crocetti, local featherweight and Tony Adamo, local welterweight, are in training for their amateur boxing bouts at 8:30 p. m. Daylight Savings time, August 23, at Beaver Falls. The fight show will be a benefit for the Providence hospital. The city police and Beaver Falls post of the American Legion are sponsoring the show which ought to draw a horde of fans.

Bill Bonthron, Princeton's star miler, finally turned the tables on Jack Lovelock, the fleet New Zealander at Paris. Bonthron won in the slow time of three minutes 57 seconds to average three previous defeats which Lovelock handed him. Normand of France came in third.

Lenore Kight, the Homestead swimming ace, added another world record to her fast growing list when she broke the mile mark at the Willows pool, Pittsburgh, Saturday. She swam the distance in 24:34.1 which clipped one fifth second off the old mark held by Helene Madison of Seattle. The mark set by Miss Kight was made in defense of the A. M. A. senior championship.

R. E. Loudon, Butler, Pa., won first place in the Camp Perry, O. individual small bore rifle match Sunday. He had a total score of 492 of a possible 500. He scored 197 at 50 yards, 199 at 100 yards and 96 at 200 yards. F. C. Kuhn, Stratford, Ct. also made a score of 492 but was out-ranked at Long range with a score of 95.

Harvard lost to the Tokio, Japan club at Tokio, 8-6. Frank Broida, Pittsburgh, beat Bob Madden, also Pittsburgh, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 to retain the western Maryland Net championship at Mountain Lake Park, Md. Ten thousand people are expected to attend the outdoor program of the Venango County Rod and Gun Club, Saturday, at the Bullion harvest home grounds, south of Franklin, Saturday.

Horseshoe Club To Meet Harmony

The Taylor street grounds will be the scene of an interesting horseshoe match on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, when the New Castle Horseshoe club opposes the Harmony club.

New Castle team boasts of victory over Youngstown, Elwood City, Sharon, and hopes to annex a triumph over the Harmony team.

Veteran Thinks Giants And Tigers Will Win Pennants
In Respective Leagues

Praises Hubbell, Schumacher, Rowe And Auker As Great Pitchers

By HONUS "HANS" WAGNER
Baseball's All-Time Shortstop And Pirate Coach As Told To Victor
J. Jacobs, International News
Service Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Until the pennants are definitely clinched, I hesitate to pick the likely flag winners of either major league but I will say that from the way things stand now, the Giants and Tigers are both going to be mighty hard to stop.

New York is pacing the National League with some five games to spare and Detroit is leading its pack by quite the same margin. The schedules of both clubs call for heavy home stands during the remainder of the season and with the two teams playing bang-up ball on the road, those games on their own lots should fortify their position.

Excellent Pitching.
While Bill Terry and his crew can thank potent hitting no little for their present success, I think they as well as the Tigers owe the best part of their climb to excellent pitching. Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher helped the Giants through many tight spots that came when the sluggers failed to come through and, even conservatively speaking, the fine mound work of "Schoolboy" Rowe and Elden Auker has been the feature of win after win for Detroit. Other pitchers have delivered well for these teams, but the results of those I have just mentioned appear to be more outstanding.

Great Hitters.
Beside pitching, the Giants have that hitting I spoke about to help their cause. The combination of Terry, Ott and Travis Jackson is one for twirlers to fear at all times and at all places. Many's the game in which one or more of that trio spoiled a hurler's duel.

And I'm not overlooking Charley Gehring and Manager "Mickey" Coghane of the Tigers, especially Gehring as long as I'm on the subject of batting. Their bingles have provided the lead for pitchers to work on time and again.

What about the Chicago Cubs? Well, Charley Grimm has a powerful strong gang. Illness, something like that which struck "Chuck" Klein and other stars, have hurt them somewhat but there is plenty of stuff there yet to do an unexpected before the season's gone. St. Louis and its wealth of pitching can't be counted out of the National race for keeps as yet, either.

Get Tough Breaks.
This is my answer to your question on Pittsburgh. Our Pirates have had tough breaks all summer; pitchers dropping low-hit games by misuses, sickness and what not. But things are looking up a little better now. Lloyd Waner is regaining his old stride and the pitchers seem to be finding themselves after a costly slump. The boys should move into a "click" at any moment now and I warn those head of us to look out then.

Tigers-Yanks Both Win Two

No Ground Won Or Lost In Pennant Dash In American League

PIRATES LOSE TO BROOKLYN

By GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports
Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The New York Yankees, who had been in the lead, are definitely out of the 1934 American league pennant race, but like the fish that has been hauled out of the water they're still kicking and squirming.

Yesterday, for example, they reared up on their haunches and plastered a double defeat on Rogers Hornsby's well-intentioned St. Louis Browns 6-3 and 2-1.

Tigers Win Two.
The double victory did the Yanks no good at all, however, for the pennant-mad Detroit Tigers also were having a double frolic up Boston way.

A throng of 46,995, the largest American league gathering in Boston history, saw Mickey Cochran's young men trounce the Red Sox 8-6 and 4-3.

The Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators put on an old fashioned slugfest at Washington with the Windy City lads finally winning out, 9 to 8.

At Philadelphia Sugar Cain held the Cleveland Indians to seven scattered hits and the Athletics romped off with a well deserved victory. The score was 9 to 5.

In the National league, the first place New York Giants continued their winning ways at the expense of the Cincinnati Reds. The game went 11 innings with the Giants finally winning, 6 to 4. Hubbell took over the pitching burden in the last inning after Schumacher, Smith and Salveson had hurled with mediocre success.

Pirates Lose.

A small Sunday crowd in Pittsburgh was rewarded for its devotion to the home club by seeing the lowly Brooklyn Dodgers take a well played game from the Pirates, 2 to 1.

The second-place Chicago Cubs gained a half game on the Giants by taking both ends of a twin bill from the Philadelphia Phillies. The score of the first game was 3-1, the second 4-2.

The Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals split a double-header, the first game going to the Braves, 10-9, and the second to the Cards, 3-1.

It was the first time that two all-star teams have opposed each other. The Reds won the game 5 to 4. The pitchers were Dickson, Mauri and Pezzone. The Blacks used the following lineup: Hilton, Ambrosia, Pezzone, Mazzeri, Formatoro, Mazzari, Sunners, Lutz, Tip Richards and Mauri. THE NEW YORK GIANTS

The pennant-mad Detroit Tigers with their undented spurt in the American league have shoved the New York Giants out of the spotlight despite the merry pace set by the National loop leaders. However, New York has a team which is probably more remarkable than the Bengals.

What is it the Giants have which makes them the class of the circuit? They have maintained a comfortable lead which is gradually broadening into a wide gap but yet they have theoretical weaknesses which apparently affect them very little.

Leroy Parmelee, one of the big four on the mound, was out over half the season with appendicitis. The big Michigan lad was being counted on for twenty victories or more.

They have an old timer on short-stop who was supposed to have been washed up after the 1931 season. On second base they have a little 145 pound veteran, 34 years old, who is batting at a .229 mark. Third base is covered by a fellow who is supposed to be an erratic fielder and is batting only .220.

Center field is patrolled by two men, both of whom started the current season in the Southern association. Left field is taken care of by a 155 pounder who looks like an invalid. And the man who was chiefly responsible for the efficient pitching, catcher Mancuso, was on the sidelines during the early months recovering from a fever attack. Gus is batting at a .222 clip now.

One would think such conditions enough to embed a team in the second division. However, the Giants possess strength even in apparent weaknesses.

The little second baseman who bats .229 is the classic fielder at the keystone sack in the league. The old man with the bad knee is hitting and fielding in such fashion as to again be acclaimed the best short-stop in the league.

Joe Moore, the sickly looking outfielder, has been batting at a .344 clip and proving to be the most efficient lead-off man in the circuit. Johnny Venzel has fit into the Giant brand of play well enough to take care of third satisfactorily.

New York can always count on Hubbell in crucial games when a victory is definitely needed. The star-southpaw has a strong supporting cast in Schumacher, Pitzsimmons, and Parmelee.

While the pitching averages of Hubbell are of high quality, they do not do full justice to the great pitcher's ability. Carl can keep everything under control at all times. Consequently, when the Giants have established a lead, he can coast along, knowing that he can keep the situation in hand by bearing down if he has to.

Next to the pitching staff, the chief reason for the Giants being in first place, is the hitting of Terry and Ott. This combination has become even more dangerous than the famous murderers' row of the Yankees.

New York has the leading hitter in the National loop batting third. He is immediately followed by the leading home run hitter in the league. This combination records two or more runs more often than any other that could be selected in the league. Terry gets on base more times than any other player and Ott cleans the sacks with greater frequency than anyone else in the loop.

So while the other clubs are leading in club batting and club fielding, and opposing pitchers are pacing the league in wins and strike-outs, the Giants are out in front in the department that really counts. They play smart baseball, backed by a steady mound staff, a great batting duo, and plenty of determination. Yes sir, the Giants are really an outstanding outfit.

Union-Scarazzo Series To Open Tuesday Evening

Unions And Scarazzos Will Play Five Game Series
For Title

Softball fans of New Castle will flock to Centennial Field Tuesday evening for the opening game of a five game series for the championship of the American softball league between the Unions and Scarazzos. The game will start at 5:45 o'clock.

The teams are natural rivals. A great series is looked for. There will be many sparkling plays. Heavy hitting that the fans like. The games should draw the biggest crowds of the year to Centennial field.

Ritchie-Bartlett
"We will end this series in three straight games" was the way Manager John Fair of the Unions put it today.

"I intend to shove my star moundman Al Ritchie in against the Scarazzos Tuesday. Ritchie will be after his 27th victory of the season" said Fair.

Buddy Marino and Stanley Coprowski had this to say: "We are not predicting any victories, but you can bet that the Scarazzos will be in the series up to their ears, and it will not be a walkaway."

The Scarazzos will probably pitch Bartlett tomorrow night. President Charles "Bugs" Walther has assigned Earl Riley as umpire back of the plate, Babovsky at first and Denis at third base. Huston will be an alternate umpire for the series.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

There will be no scarcity of fans Tuesday at West Pittsburg as the third game of the series for the Lawrence league title will be staged. Bessemer and Snyder held each have won a game. West Pittsburg held West Pittsburg at his mercy in the opener and F. Braykovich held Bessemer in the palm of his glove yesterday.

Twenty-two members of the Ne-Ca-Hi club spent the week end at the football camp Muddy Creek Falls, which is under the supervision of Ralph Gardner. The former high school athletes spent the time in golfing, tennis, swimming and cards. The committee which was in charge of the annual get together consisted of Attorney Joe McFate, Dr. J. F. McIntosh and Attorney Charles Ross.

Sammy Crocetti, local feather-weight and Tony Adamo, local welter-weight, are in training for their present success. I think they as well as the Tigers owe the best part of their climb to excellent pitching. Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher helped the Giants through many tight spots that came when the sluggers failed to come through and, even conservatively speaking, the fine mound work of "Schoolboy" Rowe and Elden Auker has been the feature of win after win for Detroit. Other pitchers have delivered well for these teams, but the results of those I have just mentioned appear to be more outstanding.

Great Hitters.
Besides pitching, the Giants have that hitting I spoke about to help their cause. The combination of Terry, Ott and Travis Jackson is one for twirlers to fear at all times and at all places. Many's the game in which one or more of that trio spoiled a hurler's duel.

And I'm not overlooking Charley Gehring and Manager "Mickey" Cochrane of the Tigers, especially Gehring as long as I'm on the subject of batting. Their bingles have provided the lead for pitchers to work on time and again.

What about the Chicago Cubs? Well, Charley Grimm has a powerfully strong game. Illness, something like that which struck "Chuck" Klein and other stars, have hurt them somewhat but there is plenty of stuff there yet to do an unexpected before the season's gone. St. Louis and its wealth of pitching can't be counted out of the National race for keeps as yet, either.

Get Tough Breaks.
This is my answer to your question on Pittsburgh. Our Pirates have had tough breaks all summer; pitchers dropping low-hit games by misuses, sickness and what not. But things are looking up a little better now. Lloyd Waner is regaining his old stride and the pitchers seem to be finding themselves after a costly slump. The boys should move into a "click" at any moment now and I warn those head of us to look out then.

A simply styled plaid velvet frock is commended for the fall wardrobe of the college girl.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Until the pennants are definitely clinched, I hesitate to pick the likely flag winners of either major league but I will say that from the way things stand now, the Giants and Tigers are both going to be mighty hard to stop.

New York is pacing the National League with some fine games in spare and Detroit is leading its pack by quite the same margin. The schedules of both clubs call for heavy home stands during the remainder of the season and with the two teams playing bang-up ball on the road, those games on their own lots should fortify their position.

Excellent Pitching.
While Bill Terry and his crew can thank potent hitting no little for their present success, I think they as well as the Tigers owe the best part of their climb to excellent pitching. Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher helped the Giants through many tight spots that came when the sluggers failed to come through and, even conservatively speaking, the fine mound work of "Schoolboy" Rowe and Elden Auker has been the feature of win after win for Detroit. Tigers-Yanks Both Win Two

Pennant Dash In American League

PIRATES LOSE TO BROOKLYN

By GENE LAWRENCE

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The New York Yankees, at all practical intents, are definitely out of the 1934 American league pennant race, but like the fish that has been hauled out of the water they're still kicking and squirming.

Yesterday, for example, they reared up on their haunches and plattered a double defeat on Rogers Hornsby's well-intentioned St. Louis Browns 9-3 and 2-1.

Tigers Win Two.
The double victory did the Yanks no good at all, however, for the pennant-mad Detroit Tigers also were having a double frolic up Boston way. A throng of 46,995, the largest American league gathering in Boston history, saw Mickey Cochrane's young men trounce the Red Sox 8-6 and 4-3.

The Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators put on an old fashioned slugfest at Washington with the Windy City lads finally winning out, 9 to 8.

At Philadelphia Sugar Cain held the Cleveland Indians to seven scattered hits and the Athletics romped off with a well deserved victory. The score was 9 to 5.

In the National league, the first place New York Giants continued their winning ways at the expense of the Cincinnati Reds. The game went 11 innings with the Giants finally winning, 6 to 4. Hubbell took over the pitching burden in the last inning after Schumacher, Smith and Salveson had hurled with mediocre success.

Pirates Lose.
A small Sunday crowd in Pittsburgh was rewarded for its devotion to the home club by seeing the lowly Brooklyn Dodgers take a well played game from the Pirates, 2 to 1.

The second-place Chicago Cubs gained a half game on the Giants by taking both ends of a twin bill from the Philadelphia Phillies. The score of the first game was 3-1, the second 4-2.

The Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals split a double-header, the first game going to the Braves, 10-9, and the second to the Cards, 3-1.

Union-Scarazzo Series To Open Tuesday Evening

Unions And Scarazzos Will Play Five Game Series
For Title

Softball fans of New Castle will flock to Centennial Field Tuesday evening for the opening game of a five game series for the championship of the American softball league between the Unions and Scarazzos. The game will start at 5:45 o'clock. The teams are natural rivals. A great series is looked for. There will be many sparkling plays. Heavy hitting that the fans like. The games should draw the biggest crowds of the year to Centennial field.

Ritchie-Bartlett
"We will end this series in three straight games" was the way Manager John Fair of the Unions put it today.

"I intend to shove my star moundsman Al Ritchie in against the Scarazzos, Tuesday. Ritchie will be after his 27th victory of the season" said Fair.

Buddy Marino and Stanley Coprowski had this to say: "We are not predicting any victories, but you can bet that the Scarazzos will be in the series up to their ears, and it will not be a walkway."

The Scarazzos will probably pitch Bartlett tomorrow night.

President Charles "Bugs" Walther has assigned Earl Riley as umpire back of the plate. Snyderovsky at first base and Denis at third base. Huston will be an alternate umpire for the series.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

There will be no scarcity of fans Tuesday at West Pittsburg as the third game of the series for the Lawrence league title will be staged.

Bessmer and West Pittsburg each have won a game. Snyder held West Pittsburg at his mercy in the opener and F. Braykovitch held Bessmer in the palm of his glove yesterday.

Twenty-two members of the Ne-Cadet spent the week end at the football camp, Muddy Creek Falls, which is under the supervision of Ralph Gardner. The former high school athletes spent the time in golfing, tennis, swimming and cards. The committee which was in charge of the annual get together consisted of Attorney Joe McPate, Dr. J. F. McIntosh and Attorney Charles Ross.

Sammy Crocetti, local featherweight and Tony Adamo, local welterweight, are in training for their amateur boxing bouts at 8:30 p. m. at the Beaver Falls. The fight show will be a benefit for the Providence hospital. The city police and Beaver Falls are sponsoring the show which ought to draw a horde of fans.

Bill Bonthorn, Princeton's star miler, finally turned the tables on Jack Lovelock, the fleet New Zealand runner at Paris. Bonthorn won in the slow time of three minutes 57 seconds to average three previous defeats which Lovelock handed him. Normand of France came in third.

Lorene Kight, the Homestead swimming ace, added another world record to her fast growing list when she broke the mile mark at the Wilkes pool, Pittsburgh, Saturday. She swam the distance in 24:34.1 which clipped one fifth second off the old mark held by Helen Madison of Seattle. The mark set by Miss Kight was made in defense of the A. M. A. senior championship.

R. E. Loudon, Butler, Pa., won first place in the Camp Perry, O. individual small bore rifle match Sunday. He had a total score of 492 of a possible 500. He scored 197 at 50 yards, 189 at 100 yards and 96 at 200 yards. F. C. Kuhn, Stratford, Ct. also made a score of 492 but was outranked at Long range with a score of 95.

Harvard lost to the Tokio, Japanese club at Tokio, 8-6. Frank Brodia, Pittsburgh, beat Bob Madden, also Pittsburgh, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 to retain the western Laryland Net championship at Mountain Lake Park, Md. Ten thousand people are expected to attend the County Road and Gun Club, Saturday, at the Bullion harvest grounds, south of Franklin, Saturday.

The Taylor street grounds will be the scene of an interesting horse-shoe match on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, when the New Castle Horseshoe club opposes the Harmony club.

The New Castle team boasts of victory over Youngstown, Ellwood City, Sharon, and hopes to annex a triumph over the Harmony team.

A simply styled plaid velvet frock is commended for the fall wardrobe of the college girl.

Wagner Says That Pirates Have Been Having "Tough Luck"

Veteran Thinks Giants And
Tigers Will Win Pennants
In Respective Leagues

Praises Hubbell, Schumacher, Rowe And Anker As Great Pitchers

By HONUS "HANS" WAGNER
Baseball's All-Time Shortstop And

J. Jacobs, International News
Service Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Until the pennants are definitely clinched, I hesitate to pick the likely flag winners of either major league but I will say that the future of the Yankees and the Giants and Tigers are both going to be mighty hard to stop.

New York is pacing the National League with some five games to spare and Detroit is leading its pack by quite the same margin. The schedules of both clubs call for heavy home games during the remainder of the season and with the two teams playing bang-up ball on the road, those games on their own lots should fortify their position.

Excellent Pitching.
While Bill Terry and his crew can thank potent hitting no little for their present success, I think they as well as the Tigers owe the best part of their claim to excellent pitching. Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher helped the Giants through many tight spots that came through and, even conservatively speaking, the fine mound work of "Schoolboy" Rowe and Elden Anker has been the factor of win after win for Detroit. Other pitchers have delivered well for these teams, but the results of those I have just mentioned appear to be more outstanding.

Great Hitters.
Besides pitching, the Giants have that hitting I spoke about to help their cause. The combination of Terry, Ott and Travis Jackson is one for twirlers to fear at all times and at all places. Many's the game in which one or more of that trio spoiled a hurler's duel.

And I'm not overlooking Charley Gehring and Manager "Mickey" Cochrane of the Tigers, especially Gehring as long as I'm on the subject of batting. Their bingles have provided the lead for pitchers to work on time and again.

What about the Chicago Cubs? Well, Charley Grimm has a powerful strong gang. Illness, something like that which struck "Chuck" Klein and other stars, have hurt them somewhat but there is plenty of stuff there yet to do an unexpected before the season's gone. St. Louis and its wealth of pitching can't be counted out of the National race for keeps as yet, either.

Get Tough Breaks.
This is my answer to your question on Pittsburgh. Our Pirates have had tough breaks all summer; pitchers dropping low-hit games by miscues, sickness and what not. But things are looking up a little better now. Lloyd Wapner is regaining his old stride and the pitchers seem to be finding themselves after a costly slump. The boys should move into a "click" at any moment now and I warn those head of us to look out then.

PIRATES LOSE TO BROOKLYN

International News Service Sports
Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The New York Yankees, to all practical intents, are definitely out of the 1934 American league pennant race, but like the fish that has been hauled out of the water they're still kicking and squirming.

Yesterday, for example, they reared up on their haunches and plastered a double defeat on Rogers Hornsby's well-intentioned St. Louis Browns 9-3 and 1-0.

The double victory did the Yanks no good at all, however, for the pennant-mad Detroit Tigers also were having a double frolic up Boston way. A throng of 46,995, the largest American league gathering in Boston history, saw Mickey Cochrane's young men trounce the Red Sox 8-5 and 4-2.

The Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators put on an old fashioned slugfest at Washington with the Windy City lads finally winning out, 9 to 8.

At Philadelphia Sugar Cain held the Cleveland Indians to seven scattered hits and the Athletics romped off with a well deserved victory. The score was 9 to 5.

In the National league, the first place New York Giants continued their winning ways at the expense of the Cincinnati Reds. The game went 11 innings with the Giants finally winning, 6 to 4. Hubbell took over the pitching burden in the last inning after Schumacher, Smith and Salvoen had hurled with mediocre success.

Pirates Lose.
A small Sunday crowd in Pittsburgh was rewarded for its devotion to the home club by seeing the lowly Brooklyn Dodgers take a well played game from the Pirates, 2 to 1.

The second-place Chicago Cubs gained a half game on the Giants by taking both ends of a twin bill from the Philadelphia Phillies. The score of the first game was 3-1, the second 4-2.

The Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals split a double-header, the first game going to the Braves, 10-9, and the second to the Cards, 3-1.

HUGE STONE PIERS IN MONONGAHELA TO BE TORN AWAY SOON

(International News Service)
CHARLEROI, Pa., Aug. 20.—Ghost-like reminders of the ambitions of a former generation are giving way to the march of time.

They are the inland stone piers the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad erected at Coal Center in Monongahela river near here 40 years ago in connection with its plans at that time to construct a branch-line from Connellsville to Wheeling, W. Va. Huge sums of money were spent, but the project later was abandoned and work discontinued.

Huge stones in the piers, some weighing a ton, are being crushed for use in cities and towns highways and streets. They were purchased recently by other interests from the railroad firm.

HUGE STONE PIERS IN MONONGAHELA TO BE TORN AWAY SOON

(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, Pa., Aug. 20.—Ghost-like reminders of the ambitions of a former generation are giving away to the march of time.

They are the inland stone piers the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad erected at Coal Center in Monongahela river near here 40 years ago in connection with its plans at that time to construct a branch-line from Connellsville to Wheeling, W. Va. Huge sums of money were spent, but the project later was abandoned and work discontinued.

Huge stones in the piers, some weighing a ton, are being crushed for use in cities and towns highways and streets. They were purchased recently by other interests from the railroad firm.

WELL, folks, the Fleetwing Dewberry camp for the season is about over. The Missus, who went to camp for a rest, and worked harder than ever in taking care of the petties of 8 little Dewberries and casual visitors, went on a strike last week. She took the 2 littlest Dewbs and went back home, still hunting for that rest. The other 6 Dewbs and their pop are still at camp and Aunt Em is doing the cooking but the boys are restless and want to go home for after all, what is a camp without a mother. Maw went to camp weighing 111½ pounds but after a summer's work in the kitchen she dropped to 93½. No wonder she is sick of camping. 11-6

New Castle Girl Scouts End Two Weeks Period At Camp Phillips

ENJOY COSTUME PARTY SATURDAY

After being populated for two weeks by a lively crowd of 140 Girl Scouts—most of whom were from New Castle, with a few from Sharon, Clarion, Beaver and New Wilmington mixed in—Camp John M. Phillips, along the Slippery Rock, was abandoned Sunday afternoon.

It served its purpose well. It provided a beautiful and comfortable setting for two weeks of recreation, undoubtedly the best camp period the New Castle Girl Scouts have ever had.

Under the able directorship of Mrs. John Brauns, of Erie, Pa., and the leadership of a staff of trained counselors, the Girl Scouts enjoyed swimming, games, handcraft, campfire meetings, outdoor cooking, over night hikes and various competitive contests. The scouts were divided into "units" each unit planning and following its own program.

On Saturday night the scouts had a party and entertainment, with all dressed in costumes. They called it a jelly-bean and flapper party, had competitive games, and the "loving" cup was presented to the winners, the flappers. They had folk dances, followed by the presentation of "Shadowgraphs" by Mrs. George Weiskel's unit. All in all it was a jolly and colorful farewell party to camp life.

After dinner camp was broken and the browned and happy girls departed for their homes.

Heaton Writes Letter To North Carolina Preacher

New Castle Pastor Writes Criticism To Preacher Who Let Snake Bite Him

Rev. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church, addresses a letter of criticism to the Rev. Albert Teester, of Sylvan, North Carolina, the preacher who gained world-wide notoriety by permitting a rattlesnake to bite him, asserting that it was done at the command of God.

A copy of the letter, published in the Baptist church bulletin for Sunday, has been mailed to Rev. Teester. The letter follows:

Rev. Albert Teester, Sylvan, North Carolina, My dear Brother:

When you deliberately took up a rattlesnake and invited the venomous reptile to bite in the presence of your congregation, you created quite a sensation. The story has appeared in several issues of all the papers. Your name is now known around the world, whereas if it had not been for that spectacle you might not have been heard of outside your own county. It seems that we preachers have to do something immoral of fanatical or else we are not considered news.

Some people around here think you are a hero of faith and others say you are just plain "nuts."

Were you thinking of the incident when Paul on the island of Melita was bitten by a viper? That incident differed from your case in two respects: with Paul it was accidental, while with you it was deliberate; and Paul's arm did not even swell, while yours became desperately serious.

Maybe you should have thought of another biblical incident before you did it. I refer to the time when Our Lord was tempted to make a spectacular feat. The devil told him to cast himself from the pinnacle of the temple, and he even gave Jesus a promise from the ninety first Psalm to bolster up his faith. That would have drawn the crowds and would have put the divine stamp on his ministry. But Jesus considered the source and rejected the temptation.

Don't you think we might easily mistake presumption for faith? When we truly act on God's word, that's faith. There is no doubt or uncertainty about it, and there is never any evil consequences from it. You better be sure it is faith and not presumption next time, brother.

Your sympathetic brother, C. H. HEATON.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts has been busy lately looking up back taxes on properties which owners are trying to mortgage to the Home Owners Loan Corporation or the Federal land banks. Statements of the amount of taxes due are necessary when applications for the loans are made. The Farm Loan Banks also keep a check as to whether or not taxes are being kept up. Recently the treasurer was asked for a statement of taxes on 160 farms.

County Commissioner's clerk, William A. Eakin, announces that new registration books will be placed in the hands of registrars this week. Delivery of the books will be made to but one of the registrars in a district. Registration days in this city will be on Sept. 6th, 18th and October 6. It may interest those who will vote for the first time to know if they will be 21 before the November 6th election they will be entitled to register.

You may take it from Wylie Brewster that state dog law enforcement agents are not "dog catchers" in the general acceptance of the term. They are officials of the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. He and his fellows do not actually catch dogs, because it is not a part of their duties. Persons specifically authorized by the dog law to catch dogs are local police officers. Here in New Castle there is an official dog catcher. The dog enforcement agents check on the licensing of dogs and prosecute those who violate the law. They make appraisals of damages done by dogs and locate, if possible, the dogs doing the damage. In other words they have the two-fold task of protecting persons, livestock and poultry from the irresponsible dog, and of protecting the well cared for, licensed and controlled dogs from irresponsible persons.

Lawrence County hunters were given a clean bill of health at the last meeting of the State Board Game Commission, according to a report received by County Treasurer, William O. Pitts. This became known today when he received from the state secretary of revenue, a list of hunter's licenses revoked by the board of July 5 last. There were no Lawrence county hunters included in the list of 132 licenses revoked. This is considered a very good record in view of the large number of licenses issued here. Those who have had licenses revoked in other counties are subject to a fine of $40 a day if they again secure a license and hunt prior to the expiration of the period of revocation. The fine is for each day that they hunt on a license so secured. Officers of the game commission last month prosecuted eighty-nine cases, including four for killing deer illegally, two for killing small game during the closed season, twelve for dogs chasing game, four for violation of the alien gun act, three for violation of the alien dog law and thirty-four fish and other violations.

County Commissioners today sent to the Secretary of internal affairs a statement of taxables and property valuations for the year 1933. The statement shows that in the city of New Castle, there were 28-735 taxables, the boroughs had 10-627 and the townships 19-354, making a total of 58,717.

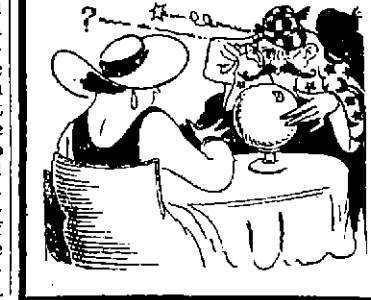

Real estate was valued as follows: City of New Castle, $49,849,943; boroughs, $13,339,409, and townships $21,756,973. The total value of all taxable real estate was $70,061,678. This does not include all of the real estate in the county, as there is considerable which is exempt from taxation.

Money at interest in the county.

SEE A BIG CHANGE IN YOUR HOME AND YOU'RE GOING TO SAVE MONEY TOO. AT HANEY'S AUGUST SALE

according to the return is $12,228-631. A four mill tax is paid on this money at interest, or less than half the county tax on real estate, to say nothing of the heavy tax by the city, boroughs and townships. To state it concretely: For each $1000 a man had at interest in 1933 he paid a tax of $4. For each $1000 of valuation in real estate in the City of New Castle he paid eight mills county tax of which 3 1/2 mills was poor and 4 1/2 county; 15 mills school tax; 10 mills city tax, amounting in all to 33 1/2 mills, or a little over $33 per $1000 of valuation, as against the $4 which the man with $1000 at interest pays.

This excessive taxation of real estate to meet all the running expenses of government, is one of the crying problems of the hour. There is now under way a well defined movement to obtain relief from the school taxation burden at the next session of the Pennsylvania state legislature. A sales tax and some other methods have been suggested, but any plan that will relieve the burden of the property owner will no doubt meet with hearty approval.

On Court House Hill

County Treasurer William O. Pitts has been kept busy lately looking up back taxes on properties which owners are trying to mortgage to the Home Owners Loan Corporation or the Federal land banks. Statements of the amount of taxes due are necessary when applications for the loans are made. The Farm Loan Banks also keep a check as to whether or not taxes are being kept up. Recently the treasurer was asked for a statement of taxes on 160 farms.

County Commissioner's clerk, William A. Eakin announces that new registration books will be placed in the hands of registrars this week. Delivery of the books will be made to but one of the registrars in this city will be on Sept. 6th, 18th and October 6. It may interest those who will vote for the first time to know if they will be 21 before the November 6th election they will be entitled to register.

You may take it from Wylie Brewster that state dog law enforcement agents are not "dog catchers," in the general acceptance of the term. They are officials of the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. He and his fellows do not actually catch dogs, because it is not a part of their duties. Persons specifically authorized by the dog law to catch dogs are local police officers. Here in New Castle there is an official dog catcher. The dog enforcement agents check on the licensing of dogs and prosecute those who violate the law. They make appraisals of damages done by dogs and locate, if possible, the dogs doing the damage. In other words they have the two-fold task of protecting persons, livestock and poultry from the irresponsible dog, and of protecting the well cared for, licensed and controlled dogs from irresponsible persons.

Lawrence County hunters were given a clean bill of health at the last meeting of the State Board Game Commission, according to a report received by County Treasurer William O. Pitts. This became known today when he received from the state secretary of revenue, a list of hunter's licenses revoked by the board of July 5 last. There were no Lawrence county hunters included in the list of 132 licenses revoked. This is considered a very good record in view of the large number of licenses issued here. Those who have had licenses revoked in other counties are subject to a fine of $40 a

according to the return is $12,228.631. A four mill tax is paid on this money at interest, or less than half the county tax on real estate, to say nothing of the heavy tax by the city, boroughs and townships. To state it concretely: For each $1000 a man had at interest in 1933 he paid a tax of $4. For each $1000 of valuation in real estate in the City of New Castle he paid eight mills county tax of which 3½ mills was poor and 4½ county; 15 mills school tax, 10½ mills city tax, amounting in all to 33½ mills, or a little over $33 per $1,000 of valuation, as against the $4

which the man with $1000 at interest pays. This excessive taxation of real estate to meet all the running expenses of government, is one of the crying problems of the hour. There is now under way a well defined movement to obtain relief from the school taxation burden at the next session of the Pennsylvania state legislature. A sales tax and some other methods have been suggested, but any plan that will relieve the burden of the property owner will no doubt meet with hearty approval.

Girls Leave Camp Sunday

ENJOY COSTUME PARTY SATURDAY

After being populated for two weeks by a lively crowd of 140 Girl Scouts—most of whom were from New Castle, with a few from Sharon, Clarion, Beaver and New Wilmington mixed in—Camp John M. Phillips, along the Slippery Rock, was abandoned Sunday afternoon. It served its purpose well. It provided a beautiful and comfortable setting for two weeks of recreation, undoubtedly the best camp period the New Castle Girl Scouts have ever had.

Under the able directorship of Mrs. John Brauns, of Erie, Pa., and the leadership of a staff of trained counselors, the Girl Scouts enjoyed swimming, games, handicraft, campfire meetings, outdoor cooking, over night hikes and various competitive contests. The scouts were divided into "units" each unit planning and following its own program. On Saturday night the scouts had a party and entertainment, with all dressed in costumes. They called it a jelly-bean and flapper party, had competitive games, and the "loving" cup was presented to the winners, the flappers. They had folk dances, followed by the presentation of "Shadowgraphs" by Mrs. George Weslake's unit. All in all it was a jolly and colorful farewell party to camp life.

After dinner camp was broken and the browned and happy girls departed for their homes.

Heaton Writes Letter To North Carolina Preacher

New Castle Pastor Writes Criticism To Preacher Who Let Snake Bite Him

Rev. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church, addresses a letter of criticism to the Rev. Albert Teester, of Sylvan, North Carolina, the preacher who gained worldwide notoriety by permitting a rattlesnake to bite him, asserting that it was done at the command of God. A copy of the letter, published in the Baptist church bulletin for Sunday, has been mailed to Rev. Teester. The letter follows: Rev. Albert Teester, Sylvan, North Carolina, My dear Brother:

When you deliberately took up a rattlesnake and invited the venomous reptile to bite in the presence of your congregation, you created quite a sensation. The story has appeared in several issues of all the papers. Your name is now known around the world, whereas if it had not been for that spectacle you might not have been heard of outside your own county. It seems that we preachers have to do something immoral of fanatical or else we are not considered news.

Some people around here think you are a hero of faith and others say you are just plain "nuts." Were you thinking of the incident when Paul on the isle of Melita was bitten by a viper? That incident differed from your case in two respects: with Paul it was accidental, while with you it was deliberate; and Paul's arm did not even swell, while yours became desperately serious.

Maybe you should have thought of another biblical incident before you did it. I refer to the time when Our Lord was tempted to make a spectacular display. The devil told him to cast himself from the pinnacle of the temple, and he even gave Jesus a promise from the ninety first Psalm to bolster up his faith. That would have drawn the crowds and would have put the divine stamp on his ministry. But Jesus considered the source and rejected the temptation.

Don't you think we might easily mistake presumption for faith? When we truly act on God's word, that's faith. There is no doubt or uncertainty about it, and there is never any ill consequences from it. You better be sure it is faith and not presumption next time. Your sympathetic brother, C. H. HEATON.

County Commissioners today sent to the Secretary of internal affairs a statement of taxables and property valuations for the year 1933. The statement shows that in the city of New Castle, there were 26,735 taxables, the boroughs had 10,627 and the townships 19,354, making a total of 56,717. Real estate was valued as follows: City of New Castle, $49,849,942; boroughs, $13,339,409; and townships $21,756,873. The total value of all taxable real estate was $70,061,676. This does not include all of the real estate in the county, as there is considerable which is exempt from taxation.
